WITH A KNIFE

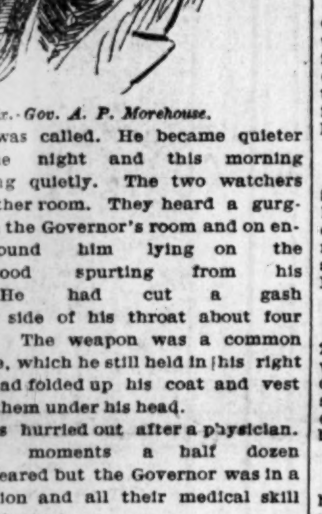

Ex-Gov. Albert P. Morehouse Cuts His Throat.

The Terrible Deed Committed at Maryville, Mo., To-Day.

HE HAD BEEN OVERHEATED AND WAS NOT HIMSELF.

While Driving Cattle a Few Weeks Ago He Was Prostrated—Since Then Has Been Frequently Delirious and Continually in a Highly Nervous State—Sketch of His Life.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 23.—A special from Maryville, Mo., says: Ex-Gov. Albert P. Morehouse committed suicide at his residence at 9 o'clock this morning. Several weeks ago the Governor was violently overheated while driving cattle and has been in a very nervous condition since. At times he has been delirous and very much depressed. He was taken out for a drive by a friend last night, but became so much excited that he was brought home and a physician was called. He became quieter during the night and this morning was sleeping quietly. The two watchers were in another room. They heard a gurgling noise in the Governor's room and on entering found him lying on the floor, blood spurting from his throat. He had cut a gash in the left side of his throat about four inches long. The weapon was a common pocket-knife, which he still held in his right hand. He had folded up his coat and vest and placed them under his head.

Messengers hurried out after a physician. In a few moments a half dozen doctors appeared but the Governor was in a dying condition and all their medical skill availed nothing.

The unfortunate man expired in a short time surrounded by the doctors and a number of personal friends.

His wife and two of his children are in St. Joseph and have not yet been informed of his death.

THE GOVERNOR'S FAMILY.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Morehouse, wife of ex-Gov. Morehouse who committed suicide at Maryville, this morning, is here with two of her children. Guarded inquiries made of her by your correspondent revealed the fact that she was yet in ignorance of the terrible surprise awaiting her at her home. Considerate friends immediately took charge of her and carefully guarded against information reaching her. She has not been in robust or good health of late and every provision was made to prevent her from suffering any shock the knowledge of her husband's terrible death would cause her. St. Joseph friends have made arrangements for her immediate return home.

Sketch of His Life.

Albert P. Morehouse was born July 11, 1835, in the County of Delaware, O. His father, Judge Jtephen Morehouse, is a native of Newark County, O. His mother, Harriet Morehouse, was born in the State of New York. Her father, Russell Wood, was one of the first settlers of Delaware County, O. His parents are still living. His boyhood days were spent on a farm in Delaware County, O. He received a first-class English education. At the age of 18 he taught school in his native county. In 1856 with his parents he migrated to Nodaway County, Mo. He resumed the occupation of school teacher after coming to Nodaway County, and while thus engaged diligently applied himself to the study of law, and was admitted to the bar at Maryville, Mo., in 1860. He practiced his profession in Southwestern Iowa and Northwest Missouri, and in 1861 he was appointed first lieutenant of Col. Kimball's regiment of enrolled militia of the Union troops. This office he held six months. In 1862 he resumed the practice of law at Maryville as partner of Col. James Graham, one of the most distinguished pioneers who first settled in Nodaway County, and from whose wife, Mary, the beautiful city of Maryville takes its name. This relation continued until the death of Mr. Graham in 1865. He relinquished the practice of law in 1871 and formed a real estate partnership with Senator M. G. Roseberry at Maryville. In 1875 he became a partner in the real estate business with Mr. Nathaniel Sission at Maryville, which is still continuing. Was a delegate from Missouri to the National Democratic Convention at Baltimore in 1872, and to the St. Louis National Democratic Convention in 1876 Was elected Representative to the Legislature from Nodaway County in 1876 and 1882. While a member he devoted much attention to the revenue laws and was an efficient and influential member of that body. At the general election of 1884 he was elected Lieutenant Governor. In 1865 he was united in marriage to Miss McFadden of Lexington, Mo. He leaves three children living, two daughters and a son. He was largely interested in real estate in Maryville and Nodaway County. He gave his personal attention to a large stock farm which he maintained near Barnard. He was connected with every public enterprise in the county since his arrival in Maryville. He was a man of executive ability and great firmness of character. He was distinguished for his social qualities. He was a man of fine personal appearance, being 6 feet tall and weighing over 200 pounds. Upon the death of Gov. Marmaduke he became Governor and was sworn into office on Dec. 29, 1887.

TRYING TO CONCEAL THE SHORTAGE.

When Treasurer Noland's shortage became known, ex-Gov. Morehouse quietly called a meeting of some of Noland's bondsmen in St. Louis, and it was he that did most of the talking at this and subsebuent meetings, and who impressed upon the others the importance of keeping the matter a secret from the newspapers and the public. He was one of the bondsmen himself, and he probably considered it to his interest as much as to that of Noland that the matter be kept dark, the intention being to keep Noland in office as long as possible and perhaps through his entire term.

HIS RACE FOR RE-ELECTION.

In 1888 he entered the race for re-election and made a thorough campaign of the State against Glover and Francis. He was defeated, however, by D. R. Francis, the present Governor of the State. After he vacated the Governor's office he returned to his old home at Maryville and resumed the practice of law and the real estate busines. He took but little interest in public affairs until the Noland defalcation became public. This was in March, 1889, less than three months after Noland's induction in office.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

The Fate of Three Boys—Steamers in Collision.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 23.—Three boys, ranging in age between 13 and 15 years, were killed by a train at the stock yards this morning. Their names were Patrick Foster, Ernest Garlos and the third was only known as George. Foster came from Valparaiso, Ind., and Garlos had papers on his person to indicate that he formerly lived in Denver. They were stealing a ride on a freight car loaded with lumber and the lumber fell upon them, crushing them.

THE SECOND ENGINEER DROWNED.

PANAMA, Sept. 23.—The steamer California, Capt. Pitchall, bound from Liverpool to Colon, was totally wrecked on Sept. 10 on the north side of Orubia, one of the islands of the Dutch Antilles, near the coast of Venezuela. She was at the time en route from Curaco to Savonilla, United States of Colombia. The passengers and crew, with the exception of the second engineer, were saved. The mail was also rescued.

A HEAD-END COLLISION.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Io., Sept. 23.—A head-end collision occurred on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad near Beverly, three miles west of here, last evening, between the Pacific express and a stock train. A number of old veterans on the passenger train were badly bruised.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The steamer Lepante, Capt. Wise, at Antwerp from New York was struck by a cyclone on the 7th inst., and thrown on her beam ends. Chief Officer Yath and a seaman named Redcliffe were washed overboard and drowned.

THE FLOODS IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Sept. 23.—The work of disinfecting Conseugra and cleaning the town of the wreckage, rubbish and filth left by the flood is now so advanced that there is no longer danger of an epidemic there. The inhabitants are now provided with abundance of food. The Mayor of Conseugra estimates the loss at £480,000.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 23.—The British steamer Saxon Prince, 530 tons, from Huelva, Spain, has been in collision with the steamer Myria, outward bound from this port. The Myria returned to the Mersey and the Saxon Prince afterward collided with and sunk the steamer Lugar. There was no loss of life.

THROWN FROM THE TRACK.

WEST PLAINS, Mo., Sept. 23.—Engine No. 255, with a section of a through freight train, was thrown from the track near here yesterday, killing Fireman Forester and severely scalding Engineer Roleman. The wreck was caused by a coupling-pin placed on the track by some unknown party.

A passenger and freight train collided at Smyrna, Ga., last night, killing Fireman Frank Hicks and Engineer W. P. Hockney and injuring Mail Clerks Miller and Wingfield.

ED BUTLER'S CLAIM.

Has a Mortgage on the Public Parks Amusement Co.'s Property.

Col. Ed Butler, the horse-shoer, took out replevin papers in Justice Carroll's office today against Constable Mike Lynch, for twenty-three horses, two wagonettes, five sets of harness and a buckboard, which Constable Lynch attached yesterday in favor of the Mansur & Tebbets Implement Co. and Geo. K. Oyler & Co., for money due them from the Public Parks Amusement Co. Mr. Butler alleges that he has a mortgage on the property for $349. Deputy Constable Matt Sheehan served the papers to-day on Constable Lynch.

Mrs. Catherine Murphy of 2334 Division street swore out an assault and battery warrant in Justice Sheehan's court yesterday evening against John M. Gallagher of 2358 Division street. She accused Gallagher of approaching her Sunday night as she sat at her door and brutally attacking her. He blackened her eyes, cut her lip and otherwise maltreated her. Deputy Constable McDonald served the papers last night and procured a commitment against Gallagher, who is now in jail. Gallagher is an ex-policeman.

Mrs. Mary Graham sued the White Sewing Machine Co. for $60 damages in Justice McCaffrey's court, because, she claimed, they did not deliver her the proper machine. The cause of action stated that she purchased a machine Jan. 22, 1887, which they seized in April of the present year on account of failure to pay dues. She paid the balance due on the machine in August, and they returned her what appeared to be the same machine, but which, she alleges, was a different and an inferior machine. The case was tried to-day, and the Judge took it under advisement.

Constable Ben F. Brady and his deputy, Chas. F. Porter, replevined a piano this morning from Mamie Norris of 14 North Ninth street for Estey & Camp on account of failure to pay upon purchase.

M'KINLEY AT OTTUMWA.

The Apostle of Protection Greeted by a Big Crowd.

OTTUMWA, Io., Sept. 23.—From daylight this morning the roads leading into Ottumwa were crowded with wagons bearing the Yeomanry of Wapello County, their families and relatives to the celebration at the coal palace. To-day was "Republican day," and the presence of Maj. McKinley, the apostle of protection, was the magnet that attracted so many of the farmers from the harvest field. Wapello County was not the only district represented, however. Special trains were run from Fairfield, Keosanqua, Bloomfield and Centerfield, while uniformed Republican clubs from Oskaloosa and Mount Pleasant were on hand to receive Maj. McKinley on his arrival last night and escort him to his hotel. The crowd to-day was overwhelming, and the heat and dust simply terrific. Besides Maj. McKinley, the speakers included Senator Allison, ex-Gov. Gear, Congressman Henderson and ex-Gov. Kirkwood.

SPRINGER FOR SPEAKER.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 23.—The Democratic State Central Committee met yesterday afternoon at the Sherman House headquarters and indorsed Congressman Springer's candidacy for the Speakership. They claim that Springer starts with more votes than any other candidate, that many Alliance men would vote with the Democrats, and that the South will recognize the claims of the Northwest to the Speakership.

BIG FOREST FIRES.

The Timber Land in Northwestern Minnesota Ablaze.

ARMYS OF FARMERS OUT TO FIGHT THE FLAMES.

Carelessness Causing a Number of Fires—Plowing Furrows—The Loss to Farmers Will Be High—Prairie Fires in North Dakota—Two Big Plants Destroyed—Fire Record.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 23.—Heavy timber fires are raging on the Red Lake Reservation and near Milace and Esterbrooks. A Great Northern crew has been sent out on a special train to fight the flames. The country is sparsely settled, and the farmers were completely at the mercy of the flames. Matters have been made worse by a cyclonic storm near Alexandria. Northwest of the town gigantic trees were broken like twigs and hurled into the lake and roads. Farmers through North Dakota have suspended thrashing operations and all are busy forming fire breaks to protect their property. In some instances farmers have been careless in and trying to protect their own property have started fires which have done great damage to others. Most of the fires so far started have been from this cause. The railroads are also taking every precaution to prevent the spreading of fires. Furrows are plowed along the border to the right of way and between these furrows and the track the grass is all burned. This serves the double purpose of protecting the bridges and culverts of the road and preventing the lighting of fires by sparks from the engine.

FIGHTING THE FIRE.

PINE CITY, Minn., Sept. 23.—Terrific fires are now raging in Northwestern Minnesota, over $150,000 worth of timber land having been destroyed. The loss to farmers will be high. Several homes and farm buildings have been burned and the owners obliged to leave the devastated district. Two school houses were destroyed yesterday, the pupils barely escaping with their lives. The teachers bravely mustered their little bands to places of safety. The loss will amount to $700 an hour at the rate the flames are now raging, and it is useless to attempt to extinguish them. The fire is approaching Pine City and 500 men are fighting it.

DENSE SMOKE AND HEAT.

HINCKLEY, Minn., Sept. 23.—Forest fires are raging all around here and the village would have been swept out of existence yesterday but for the heroic and untiring efforts of the fire company, which has been on duty continually for the last thirty-six hours. The dense smoke and heat drove many of the citizens from their homes on the outskirts. Finlayson is reported as destroyed, and all the women and children of that place were sent down here on the St. Paul & Duluth limited yesterday afternoon for protection. Sandstone is in imminent danger. A great quantity of hay has been destroyed and a number of cattle belonging to lumbermen lost.

PRAIRIE FIRES IN NORTH DAKOTA.

OAKES, N. D., Sept. 23.—A disastrous prairie fire started just east of this place Monday. The damage to shocked and stacked wheat is very heavy. The area covered by the fire extends over thousands of acres. The fire is still burning. One man has been burned fatally.

OTHER FIRES.

TWO BIG PLANTS AT ELLSWORTH, WIS., DESTROYED—BRADLEY IN ASHES.

ELLSWORTH, Wis., Sept. 23.—The plant of the Ellsworth Manufacturing Co., the Ellsworth basket factory and several other smaller buildings at this place were totally destroyed by fire. Loss, $72,000; insurance very light. The two concerns will rebuild at once.

THE WISCONSIN FOREST FIRES.

TURTLE LAKE, Wis., Sept. 23.—The village of Comstock was almost destroyed yesterday by fires which spread from the burning forests in the neighborhood. The fires are still raging, and only a heavy rainfall can check them.

ACRES ABLAZE.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 23.—Over one hundred acres are said to be burning near Cable, and the forest fires are again under way in this locality. The damage will be serious unless rain checks the forest fires.

BRADLEY IN ASHES.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 23.—A special to the Journal from Bradley, S. D., says that the whole of the business portion of the city is in ashes. Nine stores, one church, one hotel and one residence burned. Loss, $40,000.

AN EXPERT PIECE OF WORK.

The Clever Note-Raising Discovered by the Federal Secret Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—Probably the most expert piece of note-raising ever attempted has been received at the Treasury Department from Denver, Colo. It is in the form of the $1 silver certificate with the Martha Washington head, raised to a $10 national bank note. When the great difference of the designs of the two notes is taken into consideration the work of the note-raiser is indeed remarkable, and cannot be detected without close scrutiny. The vignette of Martha Washington on the face of the certificate has been so reduced in size that it is not visible except on close inspection, and over that the picture of Benjamin Franklin has been painted. All the heavy dark back-ground of the vignette has been entirely erased, and over the vignette has been reproduced the counter in which are written the letters "Ten." On the right hand side of the face of the note the Treasury number has been transformed into a die bearing the figure 10. The geometrical lathe work on the right-hand side of the face of the note has been transformed into the figure of a woman resting on the back of an eagle, soaring above the clouds. The words "One Silver Dollar" on the geometrical die in the center of the face have been cleverly changed to "Ten Dollars." On the face of the note the large figure 1 on either end has been removed and by the skillful use of chemicals and ink the note raiser has on the left hand produced an almost exact copy of the coat of arms of one of the Western States, and on the right hand the eagle and flag inclosed in an oval which appears on this part of every national bank note.

Chicago's Grant Monument.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 23.—It appears there has been a misunderstanding in certain quarters regarding the invitations to various organizations to take part in the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling of the Grant Monument in this city in October. To avoid such misunderstandings the trustees have sent out no special invitation. A general invitation has been extended to all Grand Army posts of the country to be present and take part in the exercises. In addition to this, the trustees invite all societies and veterans and Sons of Veterans and all union and military and civic societies throughout the United States to be present on that day.

MOBS OF SOLDIERS

Threaten to Sack and Burn the Chilian Capital.

SANTIAGO, Chili, Sept. 23.—There is a spirit of mutiny among the soldiers from the Northern provinces that bids fair to make serious trouble if they are not sent to their homes and disbanded. What threatened to be a serious outbreak occurred yesterday. For a time the streets of Santiago swarmed with turbulent soldiers, who threatened to sack and burn the town if they were not better fed and permitted soon to leave for their homes in the North.

The outlook for several hours was very threatening. Bands of mutinous volunteers paraded the streets, shouting and hooting, while the shopkeepers closed their windows and barricaded their doors, momentarily expecting attacks for the purpose of plunder.

CANTO'S COOLNESS.

To what extent the disaffection would have spread it is impossible to say. Further trouble was happily averted, at least for the time being, by the clear judgment and cool bearing of the President of the Junta, Jorge Montt, and Col. Canto. Their firmness, coupled with promises to the angry soldiers that their grievances would be attended to, served to allay the spirit of rebellion. The movement to return the discontented volunteers to their homes will begin to-day. Three battalions are to be sent northward by steamer to Iquique and to other ports.

To move these disaffected soldiers out of the city is the only means by which riots can be averted. The Chilian is a brave and reckless soldier, but now that the war is over the military discipline, always galling to him, will not serve to keep these restless people within bounds. It has never been possible for the officers of any Chilian army to prevent their men from plundering a fallen city, and if Santiago is not soon quit of them, scenes will be witnessed here that may go far to wither the laurels won at Vina del Mar.

BALMACEDA'S LETTER.

As stated in former dispatches from here Balmaceda wrote several letters to friends to be delivered to them after his death. Following is the text of the one addressed to Senor Don Jose de Urriburia, Minister of the Argentine Republic, at whose residence the dictator took his life:

SANTIAGO, Sept. 10, 1891.

MY DEAR SIR AND FRIEND: In conformity with what we have previously said and, as you well know, I must find a solution of the situation in which I am placed and I ought not to prolong any further the asylum which, in eventful moments, you have so generously given me, and which I recommend to my family as the greatest service I have received in my life.

The exasperation of my enemies renders them liable, should my residence be found out, to go to extremities, which I shall avoid by the greatest sacrifice a courageous man can make. You know I have scorned vulgar evasion deeming it unworthy of a man who has ruled over the destinies of Chili, and more so, to excuse the acts of triumphant revolution I had decided, of my own free volition, to place myself in the hands of the Junta De Gobierno, hoping that the constitution and the laws would in the end prevail and protect everyone. However, with all the chiefs and officers in the army, all the Senators and Representatives, the municipalities, the judiciary, the public functionaries in all branches of service accused and brought to trial, prisoners or fugitives, and I myself, who alone am responsible before Congress, dragged to justice as represented by special judges and partisans of the revolution to answer with our persons and properties for all we have done as a Government as if we had not constituted a wanton arbitrariness, has been established in such manner that I have lost all hope that justice would be accorded. Seeing that the spirit and tendencies of the revolvtion have become controlling, I do not seek to further prolong my asylum, which I neither can nor ought to do, I am ready to make the sacrifice. Would to God that this sacrifice would lessen the persecutions of my friends by those who think that in this way they can humiliate and wound me more keenly. May God have mercy on the man thrown down by the blows of misfortune. As I bless you and your virtuous wife I hope that my children will also be blessed. Tell Anrieta—he is good and stays near my kindred—to perform the last merciful services without ceremony or any following other than yourself. May you and your wife and children be ever happy. Yours,

J. M. BALMACEDA.

P. S.—Please comply with the intimate affair of honor I recommended to you last night toward the persons you know.

Attached to this letter there was another brief postscript calling attention to the fact that other letters would be found addressed to his wife and to his mother, and requesting that they be delivered to them. These letters simply contain the unfortunate man's farewell to his wife and his mother.

CONTRADICTORY REPORTS.

CABLEGRAMS TO LONDON CLAIM THAT BALMACEDA IS NOT DEAD.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The reported suicide of Balmaceda, the ex-President of Chili, is not wholly credited here. There have been so many conflicting statements concerning the dictator's escapes and attempted escapes that the last story will not be accepted as the truth until officially confirmed by the new government. A cablegram from private sources in Santiago claims that the body found at the Argentine Legation was not that of Balmaceda, while the Chilian Minister to Great Britain has received a cable from Santiago, signed by Matta, Minister of Foreign Affairs, saying he had been advised that Uribura, the Argentine Minister at Santigo, had committed suicide.

CONFIRMED BY EGAN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The State Department is in receipt of advices from Minister Egan in which the report that Balmaceda committed suicide is confirmed.

Capt. Schley, commanding the Baltimore now in Chilian waters, has cabled the Navy Department from Valparaiso as follows:

Festivities to celebrate the anniversary of Chilian independence in the restoration of peace have passed without political disturbance. Everything is quiet. Balmaceda committed suicide Sept. 19.

THE ETATA LIBEL SUIT.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 23.—Acting under instructions from Washington, District Attorney Cole has dismissed the second libel suit against the Etata. He states the case was one of emergency, and he deemed best to file the libel. He had questioned the Attorney General on the case and receiving no reply sent the marshal to San Diego to await further instructions there. He afterward received an order not to serve the papers, and did not do so.

THE ARANSAS HARBOR MATTER.

"Prince" Russell Harrison Denies the Damaging Stories in Circulation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Russell Harrison yesterday denied the damaging stories in reference to the Aransas Harbor City & Improvement Co., of which he is President, saying that he was induced to go into the company by Lieut.-Gov. Wheelock of Texas. He was assured that Mr. Lott of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railroad would be able to car,y a project through Congress securing deep water through Aransas Pass, but Lott's road had gone into the hands of a receiver and the project had therefore been delayed. He denied that he had ever received $500,000 of the company's stock, and said that all money expended had been for improvements.

A New Savings Bank.

The St. Louis Safe Deposit and Savings Bank filed articles of incorporation at a late hour this afternoon in the office of Recorder of Deeds. The capital stock is placed at $200,000, and the incorporators are R. M. Scruggs, Nathan Cole, Robert S. Brookings and others.

IN A HOG WALLOW.

The Body of Missing Martin Heines Found.

MURDERED AND CUT TO PIECES BY HIS EMPLOYER.

Detective Campbell Charged With Perjury in the Miller Murder Case—The Terrible Tramps—A Bank Wrecker on Trial—An Innocent Child Killed—The Criminal Calendar.

SAN LUIS, Cal., Sept. 23.—A horrible murder has been unearthed which was committed at the eastern border of this county June 7 last. Martin Heines disappeared that day, leaving no trace. Within the last few days his blankets and clothes were found sunk in a well. Fragments of bones and flesh were found buried in a hog wallow near a shanty of a pre-empter named John Silvia Gularte, for whom the man worked. The Coroner's jury found that Heines was murdered by Gularte. The evidence tends to show that Gularte had killed Heines by shooting him in the back, chopped him up and fed the pieces to his hogs.

THE MILLER MURDER CASE.

DETECTIVE JOHN O. CAMPBELL ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF PERJURY.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 23.—The taking of testimony in the Miller murder case before Master in Chancery Vroom was brought to a sudden stop yesterday by the arrest of John O. Campbell, the alleged detective, on a charge of perjury, preferred by Miss Mary Collins. Campbell was committed to prison without bail. The charge is based on the affidavit of Campbell, in which he says that Miss Collins confessed to him that John Miller, her brother-in-law, killed his wife. Francis Lingo, a negro, was convicted of the murder, and yesterday's hearing before Mr. Vroom was on an argument for a new trial. Campbell was employed by counsel for Lingo, and his affidavit alleges that he secured an acquaintance with the Miller household of which Miss Collins remained a member after her sister's murder. He gained Miss Collins' confidence, he says, and she told him of a quarrel between her sister and Miller, which the husband ended by killing his wife. Campbell alleges that the sister told him that the body was carried to the "bush lot," where it was found.

TWO BURGLARS CAPTURED.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 23.—Three employes of a dry goods firm, who sleep over the store, were awakened yesterday morning by burglars. They rushed down stairs and fired at the men, mortally wounding one, who gave his name as William Harriman. Last night the proprietor and one of the clerks, while looking through the clothing department, found the second burglar concealed under a counter. A fierce struggle ensued, but Matthews, the proprietor, finally felled the burglar by a blow on the temple with a cane, and he was pinioned and his revolver taken from him. When landed in jail the burglar gave his name as Frank Bender.

A DOUBLE MURDERER HANGED.

CANTON CITY, Colo., Sept. 23.—William H. Davis was hanged here last night at 8:04 o'clock for the killing of his mother, Mrs. Carrie Armsby, and James Arnold, a lodger at his mother's house in Pueblo, Colo. Arnold was a white man and Davis claimed that he was intimate with his mother, who was a mulatto. Davis called at his mother's house one night armed with a shotgun. Arnold, who was inside, asked who was there, when Davis fired two shots, killing both Arnold and Mrs. Armsby. Davis claimed he did not intend to kill his mother.

STABBED HIS WIFE.

FAIRBURY, Ill., Sept. 23.—A cutting affray which may terminate in murder occurred in the Smith House at Poulead at a late hour Monday evening. The victim is Mrs. Anthony, and her husband is charged with having attempted her murder. The couple did not get along well together and a separation resulted. Anthony followed her to Poulead from Gibson City, and gaining access to her room stabbed her several times with a large sized pocket knife. Anthony is under arrest.

AN INNOCENT CHILD KILLED.

JOLIET, Sept. 23.—A family feud, in which sickles, corn knives and bricks were used, resulting in the killing of a girl, occurred at Marley yesterday between Gottlieb Kellum and August Blunt. The row was caused over the use of water from the town pump where the wives got into a quarrel. The men took a hand and Kellum threw a brick at Blunt, missing him and killing his little 10-year old girl. Both families joined in with sickles, corn knives and clubs. All the parties are badly used up. Kellum was arrested and lodged in jail.

THE TERRIBLE TRAMPS.

OWOSSO, Mich., Sept. 23.—Last evening five tramps called at the home of Engineer Finch and insisted that Mrs. Finch should buy a ring. At her call for help her husband came, but was obliged to retreat before a tramp's revolver. Returning to his room he secured a revolver and from a window opened fire on the tramps. They returned the fire, wounding Finch in the arm. He fired five shots, three taking effect. Two tramps are seriously and a third severely wounded. All five are in jail.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 23.—Near Scottsville yesterday W. E. C. Ritchey, a well-known citizen of the place, was fatally shot from ambush while riding along the road. There is no clue to the murderer.

A BANK WRECKER ON TRIAL.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 23.—Theodore Schwartz, the banker, who is charged with defrauding creditors in the broken bank, will be put on trial at Shelbyville to-day. There is much interest and a long array of witnesses.

CRIMINAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mary Jones, a young unmarried woman is under arrest at Conway, Mo., on a charge of infanticide. She is accused of having killed her child by throwing it into a creek.

The bodies of two infants in an advanced stage of decomposition were found yesterday in a well near the Stanninger Mill at Lancaster, Ill. The authorities are making an investigation, but have not yet found a clew.

Michael Karofa, a Hungarian machinist of Cleveland, O., yesterday shot and killed Kittie Robale, 20 years of age and followed up this bloody act by killing himself. He wanted the girl to marry him and because she refused he decided to take her life and his own.

CHOLERA IN TURKEY.

The Dread Disease Spreading in the Stricken Districts.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 23.—The latest advices from Turkey to the Health officer at Boston state that the cholera is spreading in the stricken districts. In one day, July 21, Necca and Mina lost 405 of their population by the epidemic. The Turkish Government has established regulations for the inspection of vessels from those places by physicians. The English steamer Drewton, from Alexandria, recently took on board 68 bales of washed wool bound for New York, 1,680 bales aboard at Tripoli, Syria, places affected by the contagion, which latter merchandise, though reported not contaminating originally, came from the districts where the cholera is confined. The merchandise is thought to be bound for America and the health officer has been notified of the facts.

IN THE INDIAN LANDS.

Rioting Reported Among the Boomers in the New Territory.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 23.—The news from the Indian lands this morning is very meager. A courier from the Iowa village says that everything is quiet there. Many people are still hunting corner-stones and are beginning to burn the grass, which will cause great danger. In the Sac and Fox country a prairie fire is raging and it is feared that many people will be burned out and perhaps lose their lives. Elmer McGuire of Arkansas City, Kan., came in from Chandler on a bicycle this morning, riding ninety miles over rough roads. The crowd there is immense, and if the Government town site is not opened by to-night they will find another a mile away. At the land office this morning a riot was started. Many men were thrown off the porch and revolvers were drawn, but the interference of officers prevented bloodshed. Fully a thousand people are in line at the office now and trouble will surely come to-night.

On the train which came in here last night about 350 more people arrived. The conductor said that all of the roads leading to this city were filled with wagons, horsemen and pedestrians headed this way. The report circulated last night that several persons had been killed yesterday can not be verified to-day. There was some trouble at the Iowa village over a valuable claim known as the Pecan Grove. An old negro ran his team nine miles in 48 minutes, and arrived ahead of a man who attempted to drive him off. The negro showed fight and downed the man with a hatchet. The man received a very severe wound on the head, but will recover. Gov. Steele started from Tecumseh for Chandler this morning to open the new town site at noon to-morrow. The soldiers have Chandler under military rule and will not allow any one to approach nearer than thirty feet of the line. The first person to arrive yesterday who started at noon from the border was Elmer McGuire, who rode through on a tricycle, making the run in three hours. A large crowd of lot boomers arrived at Chandler last night and camped out about the town site. They are very indignant because the town site has not been opened to entry.

THE TREATY OF 1817.

Its Provisions Prevent a Naval Display on the Great Lakes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—The immense progress in ship-building industries on the great lakes has brought to the attention of the State Department a question of the diplomacy that affects the industrial progress of this country and our relations with Great Britain. The Navy Department is restricted in the places for building new vessels almost entirely to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The restriction comes from the treaty of 1817 which provides that the United States and Great Britain shall have but four armed vessels each on the great lakes and this is construed to mean that neither country shall construct other vessels on the northern frontier, though the new vessels may be intended for use in other territory. It was this restriction that caused Secretary Tracy recently to reject the lowest bid for building the naval academy practice vessel. The ship yards of the builders, F. W. Wheeler & Co., are at Bay City, Mich. Circumstances have changed greatly in the great lakes since the treaty of 1817 went into effect. Immense progress has been made in developing the resources of the lake country and in the building up of its mechanical industries. There is scarcely a city on the lakes where ship-building is not carried on successfully, and from Buffalo to Chicago and Duluth there are a dozen points where plants like that of this Bay City firm either now exist or could soon be established, capable of constructing gunboats, torpedo boats or even cruisers. Besides, the great cities of the lakes—Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo—desire to have their place in the proposed naval militia. Each city wishes to have its own naval reserves, and to have them trained in the use of the best guns and in modern naval tactics. But from any effort in this direction they are debarred by the treaty of 1817. When Secretary Blaine returns to Washington he will find these important questions confronting him. By the terms of the treaty either party to the agreement may withdraw from its provisions by giving six months notice to the other.

THEY ARE AMERICAN CITIZENS.

The McLeans Who Were Made Prisoners for Sealing in Behring Sea.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 23.—A short time since word was received here that two vessels, commanded respectively by Daniel and Alexander McLean, natives of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, had been shot at and the captains made prisoners by Russians at Cooper Island, for sealing in Behring Sea. Friends of the two captive sailors, through their representatives in Parliament, appealed to the Dominion Government to secure their release if possible. The Minister of Marine promises to investigate the affair, and, through the British authorities draw the attention of the Russian Government to the breach of the neutrality laws should it be found that the McLeans had sailed in Canadian vessels, and had retained their allegiance to the British crown. A telegram has been received from the Collector of Customs at Victoria, British Columbia, in which he states that the McLeans were sailing in American vessels and that it was reported that they had become American citizens. Credence seems to be given to the latter statement by the fact that only a naturalized citizen of the United States can sail an American vessel. The relatives of the McLeans will now seek the assistance of the United States Government in securing their release.

PRIESTER VEREIN.

Discussing Matters of Organization Behind Closed Doors.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Accepting at full value the information afforded to-day from within the guarded portals of the "Priesten Verein," the 200 German-American ecclesiastics present were occupied solely with details such as the method of electing their officers and similar subjects usually dealt with in an organization's by-laws. Although the Verein has been four years in existence it seems the members have heretofore nearly or wholly dispensed with such formalities, the proceedings, it is declared, being in the nature of free interchange of views tending to promote their common interests, encouraging a fraternal co-operative spirit among themselves and requiring little, if anything, in the way of documents or records. To-day's session, after Father Zurcher's chilling experience of yesterday, was not invaded by any outsider, and the secrets of the conclave, if any, were held back from inquirers and remained safely concealed.

Aside from the intense curiosity as to the private deliberations of the priests, interest during the day centered in the final business session of the opening Congress late this afternoon, free to laymen and priests alike. The chief proceeding was the adoption of a platform setting forth the attitude of German-American Catholics on public questions.

Eddie Pils Is Missing.

Information is wanted of Eddie Pils, a 16-year-old boy, who left his home, 3472 Pennsylvania avenue, Monday morning to go to work at the Missouri Car Wheel Foundry at Barton and DeKalb streets. He did not make his appearance at the works nor did he return home, and his parents are worrying greatly in consequence.

MINERS MEETING.

Situation In the Coal Creek Region Getting Desperate.

THE MINERS HAVE GATLING GUNS IN PLACE AND PROMISE TO USE THEM.

The Action of the Legislature Denounced as Cowardly and Criminal—Militiamen Do Not Like to Be Called Convict Guards—The Profit on the Convicts—Gov. Buchanan Determined.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The situation around Briceville grows more threatening as the last day of grace under the agreement between Gov. Buchanan and the Miners' Committee draws near. The miners are exasperated over the failure of the Legislature to give the relief expected by repealing the hated convict lease system, and their friends roundly denounce it as cowardly and even criminal. They are determined not to submit to what they consider legalized injustice, and will fight for existence. On the other hand, the coal companies maintain that the convicts cannot be withdrawn except at enormous financial loss, and they will not yield. They stand upon the law, and are determined to get the full benefit of all the law guarantees them. The citizens are as a whole in sympathy with the miners, and deprecate any display of military force, which, they contend, will precipitate a bloody conflict; and yet it is admitted by everybody that nothing but a military occupation of the territory is possible. There is no other way out. On the first hostile demonstration the companies and the convict lessees will invoke the power of the State and call for protection. It is believed here that Gov. Buchanan, although heartily in sympathy with the miners and thoroughly disgusted with the cowardly action or non action of the Legislature, will yet do his utmost to uphold the law and will not hesitate to use the troops for all they are worth. It is said that he is forced to choose between law and justice, and that he will honor his oath and execute the law. On this point, however, there is a difference of opinion. Good lawyers maintain that the authority conferred by the Legislature upon the Governor to use the troops as he saw fit is wholly without constitutional warrant. It is maintained that every particular employment of the militia must receive the specific authority of the Legislature and that as the authority recently conferred was general in its character it is therefore void. If this view obtains currency an injunction may tie up the Governor's hands.

The result of the conflict is hard to foresee. The miners have not been idle since the troubles of last July. They have two gatling guns, besides a large quantity of small arms of good pattern. They are 1,000 strong and confidently expect active aid from their sympathizers in East Tennessee, Kentucky and Alabama, who, it is said, are ready to march on a moment's notice. They also think that the militiamen will not be docile. The sneer that militiamen are being turned into convict guards has had a serious effect on the morale of the soldiers. The Tennessee militia is made up of the best of the young citizenry, while the guards are, as is natural, degraded whites who lose no pride "in guarding nigger convicts." To be classed with them is galling to the pride of the soldier boys, and it is by no means certain that they will shoot when the captain orders. Besides, many of them are disposed to think that this is not a fight in behalf of law and order so much as it is a game for big profits, and they don't care to engage in it.

The conuicts, who number 1,500, are rented for $100,000. The profit to the companies is enormous, as may be seen by a very short calculation. The cost of feeding and guarding a convict is estimated as high as 20 cents a day. The maximum task for each convict is four tons of coal a day. Putting the wholesale price at the lowest figure, say $2.50 per ton, the corporation earns $10 a day, less 20 cents. This pretty profit is worth fighting for if the corporations can get the State to do the fighting for them.

The second clause of the agreement of July 24 is as follows:

"Reposing confidence in our Governor, and believing the General Assembly, when they meet in extra session, will give us the necessary relief from the oppression that now hangs over us, we will endeavor to conduct ourselves as law-abiding people, so as to maintain the confidence and sympathy of the people in the future as well as in the past."

It was clearly understood by the miners and every one else at the time that this clause meant the immediate abolition of the whole convict loan system. It has no defenders for the beggarly revenue of $100,000 does not cover the cost of one riot. The only beneficiaries are the companies. The miners feel that they have been tricked and every body here agrees with them. Gov. Buchanan's request to the Governor of Kentucky to prevent the Kentucky miners from invading Tennessee can hardly do much good. Migration from one State to another cannot be prevented under the laws and if the Jellico men want to lend a hand to their Coal Creek friends there is no power in the Governor's office to prevent them.

The sixty days' armistice ageed upon by the miners' committee and the Governor atthe conference held in this city at the close of the troubles last spring expires to-morrow. If an outbreak occurs it will not be long delayed after that time.

Some twenty-five or thirty additional guards go to the Briceville stockade to-day as a precautionary measure. The feeling is decidedly feverish.

A GRAND AFFAIR.

The Great Harvest Festival at Minneapolis, Minn.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 23.—The Harvest Festival had an ideal day for its celebration. Work went on all night and Nicolet avenue this morning was beautifully decorated, the buildings being buried in bunting and many of them covered by sheaves of wheat bound in fantastic forms. Arches of wheat span most of the intersecting streets. On Tenth street is the finest display, consisting of an arch made of thousands of flour barrels, making a pyramid twenty-seven feet high, while sacks of grain are placed upon the supporting barrels. There are sixty of these pillars along the street from which are suspended festoons made of white, and similar festoons on the intersecting streets. Religious services were held this morning, the Catholics uniting at the Cathedral where Gounod's "Troisieme Messe" was given by the combined choirs and Ringwald's Orchestra. At the opera house was held a service of praise with addresses by leading pastors and others. The procession started at 1 o'clock with over 1,000 floats in line, most of them very beautiful and costly. The lumbermen have an immense affair, showing their trade in all its processes, from the loggers at work in the forest to the saw-mill which cuts the lumber, in operation on the float. The street railroad company has a display illustrating the growth of the system from the first mule car to the present complete electric equipment with car No. 518.

Secretary and Mrs. Blaine.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Sept. 23.—Secretary and Mrs. Blaine will leave for Augusta to-day.

CLASSED AS FAKIRS.

Presidents Kennard and Wilkinson Anger the Single Tax Men.

AN ATTEMPT TO STOP THE LEAGUE'S PROSELYTING STREET LECTURES.

President Ryan and Secretary Pepoon Resisting the Effort—A Mayor's Order Issued Without the Mayor's Knowledge—Councilman Meier's Bill to Make Rapid Transit Less Dangerous.

Mr. Dennis A. Ryan, the President of the St. Louis Single Tax League, and H. Martin Williams, the friend of Henry George and lecturer for the single tax men, were in the Mayor's office this morning, patiently leaning on the railing, when Secretary James W. Brennan came in with a "good morning, gentlemen." Mr. Williams introduced President Ryan to Secretary Brennan, and after a little conversation in an undertone, the Secretary called in Police Sergeant Alex. McGrew, the permit clerk of the Mayor's office. The Sergeant lounged in with his coat off as usual.

"Where's that single tax permit?" asked Secretary Brennan, peremptorily.

Sergt. McGrew went out, rummaged around in his desk and got out a bunch of papers, pinned together. The first one was a permit issued by the Mayor to J. W. Steele and others to hold public meetings on Twelfth street whenever they pleased. The permit was granted on the request of Hugh Pattison, Clerk of the Criminal Court, and the rights it granted were to continue indefinitely.

CLASSED THEM WITH FAKIRS.

"That's the one that was taken away," said President Ryan.

Secretary Brennan evidently know nothing of it, and his tone was an angry one as he addressed Sergt. McGrew. "Did you revoke this permit?" he asked.

"Yes, I did," said the Sergeant. "Sam Kennard, Mr. Wilkinson and Frank Galennie sent up a petition asking the Mayor to do it, and there was nothing else to do."

"Wasn't eh?" said Secretary Brennan. "Where's the petition?"

"In that bundle," said the sergeant. It was a letter, as follows:

HARGADINE-MCKITTRICK DRY GOODS CO., ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12, 1891.

Hon. E. A. Noonan, Mayor:

DEAR SIR—The Single Tax League, fakirs and others, take advantage of the illumination on Twelfth street to harangue the crowds (particularly in front of the Grant statue) greatly impeding the movement of the people witnessing the illumination and obstructing the streets.

They claim to have permission to use that place, which we can not think is correct, but if they have we ask to have them revoked on nights of the illumination. Very respectfully,

J. C. WILKINSON, Chairman Illumination Committee.
SAM'L M. KENNARD, President Autumnal Festivities Association.

Frank Galennie's name was not signed. That seemed to be a mistake of the Sergeant, who was somewhat agitated. The next paper in the bundle was this note to Chief of Police Harrigan:

Please have all officers on beats adjoining Twelfth street, between Washington avenue and Market street, take up all permits held by fakirs of every description. Move all persons doing business on this street, whether they have permits or not.
E. A. NOONAN, Mayor.

CITIZENS RESENT IT.

On the back of this was Chief Harrigan's order to Capt. William Young to carry out the Mayor's order, and then came this statement from two single tax men, dated last Friday, and addressed to the Mayor:

Last night a police officer stopped the regular weekly meeting of the St. Louis Single Tax League at Twelfth and Olive streets, and in explanation of his action showed me a letter from you instructing the police to take up all permits of fakirs operating on Twelfth street. I stated to the officer that our permit was not a fakir's permit, and that we were not fakirs; that we were selling nothing, but simply holding a political meeting and discussing political questions. The officer, however, stated that he believed your special instructions were for the purpose of stopping our meetings and he therefore refused to return our permit or to allow the meeting to proceed.

I wish to respectfully inquire whether it was your intention, as the police officer claimed, to denominate the Single Tax League as "fakirs" and to stop our public meetings. I shall not believe this unless you specifically state the same or refuse to disclaim it, because you were elected as the representative of the principle of personal liberty and not as its opponent. The constitution of the United States declares that the right of free assembly shall not be abridged. The Single Tax League has merely been exercising this constitutional right by holding open air meetings in advocacy of the principles formulated in the last Missouri Democratic State platform that "the taxing power should not be used to build up the fortunes of the few at the expense of the many," and that "land held idle for speculative purposes should be taxed at its full value." Is this not our National and constitutional right? Awaiting your early reply, I remain yours most respectfully,

PERCY PEPOON, Secretary State Single Tax Committee.
DENNIS A. RYAN, President St. Louis Single Tax League.

WANT NOONAN TO ACT.

"There has beed no answer sent to this," said President Ryan, "and we want to see the Mayor and get one."

"I'll see that the papers go before the Mayor as soon as he comes to the office," said Secretary Brennan, who was visibly disturbed about the whole affair.

"We are much obliged," said the Single Tax men, as they left the office.

"The idea of those men writing to the Mayor and calling the Single Tax men 'fakirs' is preposterous," said Mr. Williams. "I wonder if Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Kennard know who the Single Tax men in St. Louis are. Some of their members are N. O. Nelson, Rabbi Sale, Prof. Dillard, Principal Mary Institute; B. C. Keeler, General Agent Crane Elevator Co.; Geo. C. Durant, Manager Bell Telephone Co.; W. B. Addington, Hamlin Russell, telegraph editor Republic; A. B. Denton, C. W. Darby, Hon. Dennis A. Roan, H. Martin Williams, Dr. Henry S. Chase, Dr. George Homan, Will Johnson, Superintendent South St. Louis Electric Express; Congressman Tom L. Johnson of Ohio and W. H. Little, Secretary of the City Council. We will see what the Mayor himself has to say about this. I don't know that he understood the request."

The most peculiar thing about the affair is that the Mayor's signature is on the order to award the permit, when neither he nor Secretary Brennan seems to know anything about the matter. This feature of the affair will be investigated by the Single Tax men who are protesting.

Life Saving by Legislation.

If the Municipal Assembly can now withstand the influence of the street railway lobby, the fast-running electric cars will be made to stop killing people. Councilman E. F. W. Meier was one of the most careful readers of the list of casualties by street car carelessness the POST-DISPATCH published a few days ago. His first idea was that a law should be made requiring the cars to be run more slowly. He found that there would be strong opposition to this, and he concluded to begin by introducing a bill whose effect will be to make motormen and gripmen on the fast trains more careful. Half the accidents that occur are caused by passengers trying to get off the cars or on them while they are in motion. Some motormen positively refuse to stop their cars at crossings for men and will only stop their trains to a six-mile speed. They are still more regardless of the safety of boys, and rarely offer to stop for them. The little fellows are always venturesome and quite willing to take the flying leap to which the car-men invite them at the crossings. The result is broken limbs or serious strains of leg and foot muscles. Councilman Meier's bill hits directly at this practice of the carmen. He introduced it last night. The cars are required to make a full stop at street corners when passengers want to get on or off. No person is allowed to stand on the platform. The cars must not carry a larger number of passengers than they can seat, and when the seats are full the conductor must hang out a placard bearing in large letters the word "Full" on it. The maximum penalty for a violation of the ordinance is a fine of $100. Councilman Meier expects that the bill will be amended while in the Council, and if it is found to be practicable, a clause allowing the cars to run more slowly than ten miles an hour will be added. The street car managers are expected to present determined opposition to the bill. As to the "Full" placards, they say that they do not ask passengers to get on the cars when there are no seats for them. The speed, they say, is demanded by the patrons of the road. "Why," said Manager George D. Capen of the Lindell, "if we were to drop down to four miles an hour, what a howl there would be from the people that travel on the road! Sprague, the motor inventor, says in an article in the Forum that the deaths by street cars are not caused by the rapidity of their motion, and he is right. He says that the desire of city people for rapid transit is a matter of education, and that they don't do without it after they get used to it. There he is right again. On some parts of our line we run about fourteen miles an hour, and our schedule time from Vandeventer to Third street is ten miles. The other day the line ran over a child. It had strayed away from its mother and should not have been on the street. A wagon might have run over it just as well as an electric car. The same day a slow moving Cass avenue horse car ran over and killed an active 14-year-old boy. How can you get an argument against fast street cars out of this? More people are killed in the streets by wagons and buggies in a year than by the electric cars. If the speed of our cars was reduced down would come the value of property west of Grand avenue. Just ask real estate men if that is not true."

LOVED THE WIDOW.

Why Decorator Searles Wedded Wealthy Mrs. Hopkins.

SALEM, Mass., Sept. 23.—The vast sum at stake in the Hopkins-Searles will contest (over $30,000,000) gives every phase of the trial now on in Judge Harman's court a special interest. The case opened to-day with a largely increased attendance of spectators. The examination of Mr. Searles, who was placed upon the stand, was resumed this morning. In his evidence yesterday the many millionaire widower declared that love for the lady prompted him to marry her and that his course was in no way influenced by her enormous wealth. In answer to questions by Mr. Burley, the witness stated that he and his wife went to Europe, Nov. 23, 1887 on a wedding tour. Previous to starting on the wedding tour, Mrs. Searles secured the founds about $100,000; the trip was for six months and included witness, his wife, a lady's maid, Martha Epping and Rev. Dr. Clapp, his wife and daughter. Did not meet Dr. Slade or any Spiritualists on that trip. Knew Charles Bolles, who, he believed called himself a harmony scholar, or Christian scientist, but he never knew of his attending Mrs. Searles either before or after marriage; returned from Europe June 8, 1888. Timothy Hopkins managed Mrs. Searles affairs up to the time of the partnership.

THE TRANSACTION AT NICE.

After the marriage, while in Europe, witness' wife had made over to him certain deeds at Nice. The suggestion of the copartnership came from Mr. Searles. Articles of copartnership were put in between Mary F. Searles, Edward F. Searles, Thomas F. Stillman and Thomas Hubbard, to manage all the property of the Searles and pay the income to the parties, Mr. and Mrs. Searles to receive 4 per cent each, and Stillman and Hubbard each 5 per cent of the income; if it did not amount to $650,000 to be brought up to that amount by the sale of securities. Mrs. Hopkins became acquainted with Stillman & Hubbard about a year before the marriage, and on Oct. 31, 1887, Mr. Stillman was given power of attorney from Mr. Searles and Mrs. Hopkins. There was also a general power of attorney from Mrs. Hopkins to Stillman & Hubbard, dated Nov. 8, 1887.

This was the same date as the marriage with a supplementary certification after the marriage. This was never revoked to the knowledge of witness. Witness knew of a transfer of stock standing in her name to the firm five days before her death; witness saw the attorneys in New York five days before and told them her condition was critical; did not learn the transfer had been made until after death; could not say what the stocks were, or their value; nor did not know how and never knew what the assets of the co-partnership were; never heard the amount stated; witness' share of the income from the firm was 45 per cent, but he drew both his and his wife's income, and at her request used the money to pay the general household expenses; witness deposited the money to his individual account and drew checks against it.

Mr. Burley then called for the check books. Witness continued: Mrs. Searles had no individual bank account during the time they lived together; he could not give the average annual profits of the copartnership, but it was between $500,000 and $600,000.

Judge Rollin E. Harmon, who presides over the Probate Court of Essex County, and will pass upon the celebrated case now on trial, is a man of well-known fairness and integrity. He comes of good stock, with a sprinkling of legal minds among his ancestors, and prepared for judicial life by a thorough education at Williams College. The war, however, interrupted his plans and drew him into active service, but on his retirement from the army he took up his present profession and has figured prominently as a lawyer in Northeastern Massachusetts for a generation past. He is now about 50 years of age, with a touch of gray in his hair. A more competent jurist could not have been selected for the work before him.

THE S. V. WHITE & CO. FAILURE.

No Estimate as Yet of the Firm's Assets and Liabilities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—There was no excitement on the Produce Exchange this morning on account of the failure of S. V. White & Co. yesterday. In fact the corn market opened a quarter of a cent higher than the closing prices yesterday. A member of the firm of Field, Lindley, Weichers & Co., in the Washington building, which it was rumored was in trouble, stated this morning that they were in no way interested in the firm of S. V. White & Co., and were not in the least affected by it. They did considerable business for Mr. White's firm. This morning the corn carried for them for S. V. White was margined down 15 cents below yesterday's lowest figures. Charles W. Gould, assignee, said to a reporter to-day that he was not yet prepared to make any statement in relation to the affairs of that firm and he could not tell when he would be. It would probably be some little time before any statement could be made. As soon as it was ready it would be given to the public. Mr. Gould added that he could not even tell approximately yet what the liabilities were, and he did not believe anyone else could.

In relation to the White failure George B. Ganard, a well-known financier of New York, who was on Third street to-day, said: "I have been reasonably familiar with the business of S. V. White & Co. for many years past and am perfectly certain that the attempt to run a corner on corn is not what really broke that firm. As a matter of fact, it was practically broken last November, when there was such a panic in stocks in consequence of the failure of the Baring Bros. It did not go down, for at that time the situation of the market was such that the solvent houses could not allow those that were less strong to fail. Under ordinary conditions White & Co. would have failed, but Drexel, Morgan & Co. and other great firms held it up. Since that time, however, it has been crippled, and while its assets were larger than its liabilities, it could not have continued in business much longer without some fresh access of capital. To obtain this the house, which has been nearly exclusively a stockbroking firm, branched off into corn. The hot spell, insuring the crop against injury, was the last straw, but not the real reason of the failure, the cause of which is to be found in the stock depression of last fall."

THE CRAZY KING.

A Dantzic Socialist Arrested for Praising the Sovereign of Bavaria.

GERMAN SUBJECTS MUST NOT TALK ABOUT THE KAISER'S BEARD.

The Russian Government Preparing for a Crusade Against the Non-Orthodox Sects—Workmen on the Siberian Railway Revolt Against Bad Food—The Honduras Election—Foreign News.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—A Socialist at Dantzic has been arrested for saying that King Otto, the crazy sovereign of Bavaria, was the most useful monarch in Europe, because he spends his time peeling potatoes. This remark was considered a reflection on the Kaiser and all the other German sovereigns, not one of whom is conspicuous for anything but good living. The police are more than ever severe in punishing any act or word of personal disrespect for the Kaiser, and in Berlin yesterday two men were warned by the police to stop talking about the Kaiser's beard. Visitors have been forbidden to come within a certain distance of royalty while out picnicking or boating in the vicinity of Potsdam. These orders have been issued in deference to the Empress, who claims to have been annoyed by inquisitive visitors watching her at lunch, and possibly commenting on her healthy appetite. In future no one dare look at royalty except when it chooses to be on exhibition.

PRINCE ALFRED'S PREFERENCE.

Prince Alfred, son of the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, the latter being a sister of the Czar, is doing active service for the first time as a Lieutenant of the Ninety-fifth Foot, recruited from the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. The young man is only about 17 years of age, and is said to prefer his Anglo-German to his Russian connections. He was cordially greeted by the Kaiser after the review at Cassel.

RUSSIA'S ESTABLISHED CHURCH.

THE AUTHORITIES PREPARING A CRUSADE AGAINST NON-ORTHODOX SECTS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 23.—The authorities are preparing for a crusade against the non-orthodox sects, which have been gaining in numbers to such a degree as to alarm the Holy Synod. It is proposed to adopt hard labor and banishment to the remotest parts of Siberia as a punishment for enticing orthodox Russians from the rites and ordinances of the established church. Dissenters are to be ineligible to any post or to any employment connected with village administrations and are not to be allowed to employ as domestics anybody belonging to the orthodox faith. Communities of Stundists are to be subject to police supervision, and it is the duty of the police to see that no orthodox person joins in Stundist worship. Unlike the Jews, the Stundists are not to be driven out of Russia. The Czar wants them and is trying to convert them.

STRIKES AND RIOTS.

Strikes and riots are reported on the Siberian railroad, the workman revolting on account of bad and inadequate food. The public sympathize with the workmen and demand that inspectors be appointed to protect the men from the rapacity of the contractors.

AFFECTS JEWS AND POLES.

The Minister of the Interior has drafted a law providing for the deportation to Tobolsk, in Siberia, of all foreigners coming under the decree of expulsion, if their own country refuses to receive them. The measure will chiefly affect Jews and Poles.

GENERAL FOREIGN.

MEETING OF THE NATIONAL FEDERATION AT DUBLIN—THE CUBAN TREATY.

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—A meeting of the National Federation was held in this city to-day, at which Mr. Justin McCarthy presided. In addressing the members of the Federation, Mr. McCarthy said that the section of the Irish Parliamentary party, of which he was the leader, had virtually won a victory over that section which acknowledged Mr. Parnell as its head. In order that this advantage might be followed up and home rule for Ireland be made an established fact it was necessary that fund be raised to meet the expenses of the party, and Mr. McCarthy announced his intention to issue an appeal to both the people of Ireland and Irish-Americans to subscribe to such a fund.

THE CUBAN TREATY.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 23.—A return, brought down yesterday, on the subject of the treaty recently concluded between the United States and Cuba. The tenor of the correspondence is whether the said treaty differentiates against Canada. The conclusion reached is that Canadian trade will under the existing commercial connection between Great Britain and Spain enjoy, until the 30th of June, 1892, advantages of a similar kind to those accorded by Spain to the United States arrangement referred to.

THE HONDURAS ELECTION.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 23.—News is just received here of the election of Gen. Leiva as President of Spanish Honduras by a vote of 8 to 1 over Gen. Bonilio. Gen. Leiva was supported by Gen. Bogran, the present incumbent.

STANLEY TO RESIGN.

THE MERRELL DRUG HOUSE.

Established in 1853 and It Has Been Growing Ever Since.

One of the oldest and largest drug houses of the West is that established by Jacob S. Merrell in 1853, and now conducted by the J. S. Merrell Drug Co. The history of this establishment represents the growth of the city during the last thirty-eight years. The first store was on St. Charles street, between Fifth and Sixth, but it was destroyed by fire in 1857. The next location was on Broadway, near Washington avenue, and some fourteen years ago the firm removed to the present location, No. 620 Washington avenue and No. 621 St. Charles street, the store running through the entire block. And then they have a branch store in the next block west, namely at 718 St. Charles street.

For years the J. S. Merrell Drug Co.'s store has enjoyed the honor of being the oldest wholesale drug establishment in St. Louis, and in reliability and sterling integrity the house has always stood in the front rank. The company is now in the midst of its fall trade and is doing a heavy business, as usual.

A Fashion Chat.

Collars and sleeves are the leading features of the bodice. The Medici, Henri II. and Bolero are the favorite shapes, and did you know that Barr's have introduced a new foundation or lining of all these new collars? They come all ready to cover and to fit any dress, are made in strong buckram and anybody can use them. There's a new silk gauze for evening dresses, and although very low in price—only $1.25 a yard—nothing is prettier no matter what it cost. This has groups of 6 satin stripes running through only a few inches apart and Barr's show it in the new grays, lavenders, pinks and so on.

Nobody feels much like buying dry goods this warm weather, so Barr's are having a special sale in souvenir cups and saucers and silver spoons; spoons as low as 30 cents.

Just for a "flyer" Barr's will sell five hundred Japanese drop-water tea pots at 17 cents to-morrow; also the stylish Kissone bottles for grasses or to be decorated, at 25c each.

Want a dressed dollar doll for 58 cents? bisque head and jointed body, boy and girl dolls.

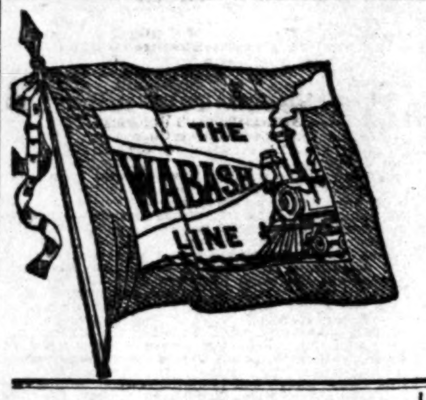

Have you been to Barr's hosiery display? Were not you astonished at the low prices? It's worth your while to find out Barr's prices on strictly reliable and guaranteed goods before buying a single pair of stockings. You'll save money by following this advice.

By the way—the bargain way—wonder if anybody would buy any other sort of a towel when they can get Barr's banner towel for 25 cents? It is the largest made for the price; 48 inches long, is all linen and all prudent housekeepers know it by heart. A dozen of this towel will outlast two dozen any other.

ANOTHER MURDER.

Henry Porter Dies From the Effect of His Injuries—Police News.

Henry Porter died of concussion of the brain at the City Hospital this morning, and the Coroner was notified of it to-day. His death places another prisoner behind the bars of the City Jail under a charge of murder. Porter was a negro laborer. About 6 o'clock last Friday evening he and another negro named Daniel Mathews were drinking beer at High and Morgan streets when they commenced quarreling as to whose turn it was to pay for the drinks. Blows were exchanged, and Mathews was being worsted when he picked up an iron bar from the sidewalk and felled Porter to the ground with a blow on the head. When the injured man was examined at the hospital it was found that his skull had been fractured. Sunday he rallied a little, but he grew weaker in the evening and steadily declined until this morning, when he died. Mathews, not realizing what he had done, made no attempt to escape at the time and was arrested. He is now in jail on a charge of assault to kill, but a warrant will be issued to-morrow charging him with murder.

She Strayed From the Path.

Mrs. Julia Magee of 1110 Locust street called at the Four Courts this morning and requested the arrest of her niece, Minnie Wiley, 17 years of age, who was living in a house at 1317 Pine street, kept bp Pauline Long. The girl, she said, was the daughter of respectable parents in Litchfield, Ill., and she came here a few weeks ago to find a place as a domestic. She remained with her aunt about one week and then disappeared. Mrs. Magee heard nothing more of her until yesterday when, she learned the girl was in the house mentioned. Officers Fox and Birmingham called at 1317 Pine street and found the girl there, living under the name of Stella Dunlap. She is a pretty blue-eyed miss, well developed and looks to be 18 or 19 years old. After a scene in Captain Young's office she consented to go to the House of Good Shepherd, and there she was sent without delay.

The Game Didn't Work.

A bogus check worker tried to work his game on the Devoy & Feurborn Coal & Coke Co. this morning but fell short of success. He called early in the day and ordered a load of coke sent to a house on Chestnut street near Eleventh street. He gave his name as Thomas Noonan and said he was connected with the Noonan Real Estate Co. He gave the check to Mr. Charles Kerney, the bookkeeper and waited for the change, the difference between the price of the coal and the amount of the check being about $15. Mr. Kerney suspected something wrong and went to the telephone to call up Noonan & Co. and the Franklin Bank. As soon as he made this move the prospective purchaser disappeared very abruptly from the office. The investigation proved that he had no connection whatever with the Noonan company.

Shot at a Fleeing Burglar.

While making his rounds about 9 o'clock last night Private Watchman Jarrett saw the door of a tool-house open, in the rear of the Westminster School on Whittier and McPherson avenues. When he approached the place a man ran out and almost knocked Jarrett down in his flight. The private watchman fired two shots at the fugitive as he plowed through the high weeds across the street and disappeared, but he did not hit him. On making an investigation Jarrett found the tool house had been forced open, and the burglar was at work on some tool boxes when interrupted.

Fought Over Drinks.

Charles Ungar and Jack McArthur met in a saloon at Fourteenth and Pine streets about 11 o'clock last night and got into a quarrel over their drinks. McArthur struck Ungar on the head with a club, tearing his scalp in two places and then made his escape. Ungar was taken to the Dispensary.

Stole Wearing Apparel.

Ada Bauer, a colored woman living on Eleventh street, between Clark avenue and Walnut street, was arrested last night on a charge of stealing a lot of wearing apparel and jewelry from Mrs. Mary Kline of 3510 Manchester road two weeks ago. Part of the property was recovered.

GERMANY'S FAVORITE SONG WRITER.

The Centennial of Theo. Koerner's Birth to be Celebrated To-Night.

To-day is the centennial anniversary of Theordore Koerner, the dramatist and song writer of Germany, who was killed in battle before he had attained his 22d year while defending his country against the invasion of the first Napoleon. This evening the Social Turnverein will give an entertainment at their hall, Thirteenth and Monroe streets, in honor of Koerner. Several of the Koerner-Weber pieces will be sung, and Herr Wm. Ahrens will deliver an oration. Koerner's farce in one act, "The Night Watchman," will also be produced.

The Socialer Sængerchor will celebrate the anniversary this evening at the Concordia Club Hall. A bust of Kœrner will be unveiled—modled for the Sængerchor by the sculptor, Robert Caeur. Dr. Pretorius of the Westliche Post will deliver an address. Many of Kœrner's poems will be recited or sung, and his opera, "Der Vierjaehrige Posten," will be performed.

On Sunday night the St. Louis Damenchor had a very brilliant Kœrner festival. The event of the evening was an address by Herr Max Hempel, who discussed discriminatingly the worth of Kœrner's poetry and its inspiring influence.

Kœrner spent much of his youth in the society of Schiller, who wrote his "Don Carlos" at the Kœrner homestead in Dresden, and next to Schiller the author of the "Sword Song" is the most endeared of all German writers to the people of Germany. While still in his teens his plays were being produced on nearly every stage of Germany, and his songs were the war songs of the soldiers against Napoleon.

GILMORE promises to surpass himself in the music he will give at the Exposition for the next two years, and this means that all previous achievements will be eclipsed.

THE renewal of the Gilmore engagement at the Exposition for two years more upon a basis which affords the great bandmaster wider scope in his efforts to please the public assures the brilliant success of the programme for the remainder of our three-year festivities.

THE Single Tax advocates can find a smashing argument for their theory in the scramble of speculators for the choice sections and town lots in the new lands in Oklahoma. There are genuine settlers for all the homesteads, but many of them in order to get homes will have to pay the speculators' profits.

THE life of a wealthy old citizen of Zanesville, O., was made so miserable through his opposition to base ball playing that he cut his throat. There is no relief from the national game, it seems, except through the death of the cranks or the victims, but the death of the cranks would be more in accordance with justice.

A FEW weeks ago the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH published an interesting article about McFadden's Theater, describing the amusing efforts of a company of street gamins to produce realistic melodrama. The Pittsburg Leader liked the article so well that it clipped and, merely changing names and localities, republished it as original matter. We appreciate the tribute thus paid to the merit of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH specials, but must deprecate the sacrifice of the Leader's honor in order that this kind of tribute may be given to our work.

THE proposition that no more passengers shall be permitted to enter street cars after the seats are all taken continues to haunt city councils, our own included. The plain reason why ''it doesn't go'' is that a majority of the people who ride in street cars are opposed to a regulation which would often compel them to walk long distances after long waiting in vain for cars with empty seats. Few people refuse to enter a street car while there is standing-room left. They prefer a standing ride to a long walk or a loss of time, and want no regulation which would deprive them of such acceptable accommodation. They know that the occupants of a car are continually changing. They are willing to take their chances of getting a seat after standing part of the way, and don't want to be deprived of standing-room in the cars even if they have to stand all the way. Such a regulation could not be long enforced without eliciting from the public an almost unanimous demand for its repeal.

TO THE stranger within our gates is due the information that this unusually hot September weather is not peculiar to St. Louis. There is no record of anything like it at this season of any former year in St. Louis. But it extends over the whole Mississippi Valley, and the weather reports show that the same extremely high temperature afflicts the States of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, as well as Missouri and States further south. In St. Paul yesterday and in Milwaukee, on the Wisconsin shore of Lake Michigan, it was as oppressively warm as in Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis.

AFTER killing two persons in different parts of the city on Monday our street cars let up and killed nobody on Tuesday. We hope that to-day's operations will still further reduce the daily average for this week. There is an impression abroad that the importation of green hands to take the places of experienced and skillful trainmen is more responsible than the increased rate of speed for the increased amount of killing recently recorded.

IT is charged that young RAUM is still conducting a profitable office brokerage business in connection with the Pension Bureau. This erratic young man is not now in the employment of the Government and, therefore, is not amenable to official discipline. But if the charge is true there is some one in the Pension Bureau who should be promptly and vigorously dealt with.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

More Places for Heelers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I desire to enter an earnest and emphatic protest through the medium of your valuable paper against a bill recently introduced in the Municipal Assembly by a member of the House of Delegates, creating an inspector of garbage at a salary of $1,800 a year, and two assistants at $1,200 each. This is a bare-faced steal, a rank piece of jobbery. What is there to inspect about garbage? If there is any inspection needed the Health Department is abundantly supplied with a lot of political heelers (sinecures) called sanitary inspectors, whose duty it ought to be to see that the garbage is promptly and regularly collected. Then we have the police force, supposed to cover every part of the city. He is able to report any dereliction of duty on the part of the garbage contractor in any part of the city without the multiplication of offices and the imposition of unnecessary burdens on the people. Your able paper would render the public a great service by opening on these political vampires with hot shot and keep it up until they are vanquished.

A TAXPAYER.

A Case of Political Jim-Jams.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your rejoicing of Republicans joining the Democrats in ''downing'' the third party proved the correctness of the Alliance leaders, who predicted this all along. The Republican and Democratic press of Kansas and the majority of the Southern States have boldly put themselves on record as opposed to the Alliance. The attack against the sub-treasury is but the prelude to the grand attack which is to be made all over the country on the Alliance. But the press speaks only for its masters, the monopolists. The politicians will resort to any crime to perpetuate their power, but, fools that ye are, can you not read the signs of the times? Look at Missouri, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi and all the States that the sub-treasury was to be the rock on which the Alliance would split and see the result. In every State the Sub-treasury and Ocasa demands were indorsed overwhelmingly, while traitors like McAllister, Hall and their ilk were politely told that their company was not desired and were driven into the ranks of the enemy where they properly belong. The capitalistic press is lying about the Alliance and slandering its leaders. But who cares for the barking of the dog? The people of America are not the thieves their congressmen, editors and monopolists are, and the scales having dropped from their eyes, they can never be led again by a horde of corruptionists like Harrison, Wanamaker, Cleveland or Hill. All legislation for the past three years has been against the toilers, and the people will change matters in spite of monopolists, corruptionists, press and Pinkerton. And don't you forget it!

A Slaughter-House Nuisance.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

We, the property owners and residents on Garfield avenue and Sarah street, would like to solicit the aid of your paper to relieve us of a very bad nuisance.

There is on the northeast corner a slaughter house, where there is killing done every day, which has no sewer connection; also, the water closets of the two houses, and besides all the refuse water from every use is thrown on the ground or in the gutter. We were all compelled to put in sewers long ago. Why is it the owner of this property is let go by the authorities? He must belong to the push. FIVE SUBSCRIBERS.

A Kick.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The Sunday morning's POST-DISPATCH of to-day
Has put the undersigned in a terrible way.
To be Dr. Jekyll and then Mr. Hyde
Is a double existence that well may betide—
But in vigorous words: ''Darn my eyes''
If I like the change, while contesting for a prize,
Of the ''intelligent compositor.'' though he be a great wag,
That converts plain Eli Jay into a big Eli Jag.
The proof-reader, too—no doubt a good fellow—
Must have been ''off''—unusually ''mellow''—
To permit an error so glaring to escape him,
And I hope that no other will venture to ape him.
''Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's''
Whether ruling in Rome or over Mexican greasers;
The same give to rhymsters who get up and rag
For fame and for fortune, but give them no ''jag''
Nor permit such to attach to what they may say,
Is the modest request of the agrieved ELI JAY.

GET PROMOTED

A Charge That "Suspect" Lady Teachers Have a Pull.

Ex-Director Hogan's Experience in the School Board.

HE SAYS THAT SCANDALOUS STORIES APPARENTLY BENEFIT TEACHERS.

Supt. Long Refuses to Discuss the Charge That He Suppressed Sworn Evidence Against a Lady Teacher—Director Barstow on the School Board's Position—No Official Repudiation of the Secret Service System—Two Interesting Letters.

The proposed School Board secret service system is causing a lively scurrying about of School Board officers at present, and directors are now being flooded with ''explanations'' and apologies. The proposition to ''shadow'' lady teachers of the public schools on occasion, advanced by President Miller and Supt. Long, met with such instantaneous and pronounced public condemnation that those gentlemen, ever since the publication of their views in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH, have been trying every possible means of squaring themselves and of retreating from such a disastrous position. The result of their work in this direction is causing some peculiar contradictions and complications.

Yesterday was the regular meeting day of the Teachers Committee of the School Board. Before the hour for the meeting arrived Supt. Long called on Director Chas. W. Barstow, Chairman of the Teachers' Committee, and had a long conference with that gentleman. The object of the conference was apparently an explanation which should prevent the School Board taking any sudden action in the matter in deference to the storm of popular indignation which has arisen against the projectors of the secret service idea. Supt. Long ''explained'' to Mr. Barstow that he had never thought of such a thing as establishing a ''system of espionage'' over lady teachers of the public schools; that he had expressed himself as favoring the employment of a detective on occasions owing to facts that contained no reflection upon the lady teachers, and that he should not be judged on the issue as it stands at present. His ''explanation'' failed to ''explain'' the admissions made in his own letter, however, and Director Barstow to-day spoke to a POST-DISPATCH reporter in the most unqualified terms of condemnation of the secret service idea as expounded by its two supporters.

''The School Board can take no action in the matter,'' said Director Barstow, ''for the reason that the secret service system exists only in the minds of those two gentlemen, and we cannot hold an official responsible for his private opinion. But the proposition meets with the most indignant repudiation from the School Board as a body.''

SUPT. LONG REFUSES TO TALK.

After having seen Mr. Barstow Supt. Long returned to his office, evidently determined to bar out reporters of the POST-DISPATCH from his confidence from that time henceforth. Not even on important matters that could be explained only by himself would he consent to talk, and his refusal to do so was marked by a decisive gruffness which emphasized his determination. The POST-DISPATCH naturally wanted from Supt. Long an answer to the story told by a School Board Director that charges made against a certain lady teacher of the public schools, and supported by sworn affidavits, had been pigeon-holed in Supt. Long's desk, never investigated, and never reported to the Teachers Committee. Supt. Long was first seen on this subject yesterday afternoon just before the meeting of the Teachers Committee.

''I have nothing to say to reporters,'' he said shortly. ''Besides, I am too busy. No, I cannot talk to you.''

Again this morning was the Superintendent of the Public Schools seen.

''Mr. Long, the POST-DISPATCH would like to have your explanation of that story,'' said the reporter. ''It is charged that although the complaint against the lady teacher was supported by sworn testimony, it never received any attention from you, and that you never reported it to the board or the Teachers Committee.''

''I have nothing to say on the subject,'' came the determined reply. ''I have nothing whatever to say to reporters!''

With this position taken by the School Board official before whom, it is charged, the sworn evidence against a lady teacher was filed, and by whom it was suppressed, the story must remain as told by the School Board director to the POST-DISPATCH. It is a strange contradiction of policy for an official who believes that detectives should be employed to ''shadow'' lady teachers on suspicion, and who yet ignores a direct charge accompanied by sworn testimony.

EX-DIRECTOR HOGAN'S STARTLING CHARGE.

It is in fact a contradiction which has aroused a former director in the School Board to make a startling statement.

The gentleman in question is Mr. Robt. G. Hogan, who is connected with the wholesale tea house of Thos. H. Rockwood, at No. 812 North Main street. Until two years ago Mr. Hogan was a member of the School Board, and was on the Teachers Committee. He is a well-known and highly-esteemed young business man, and was exceeding careful in making a statement, the grave significance of which he fully recognized.

''This proposition to establish a secret service system to spy upon lady teachers is outrageous, because it reflects upon the entire corps of 1,200 lady teachers in the public schools of St. Louis,'' said Mr. Hogan to a POST-DISPATCH reporter to-day. ''The School Board needs only to investigate and take action upon the cases of a certain few lady teachers about whom scandalous stories are told openly in the board, but who are nevertheless promoted whenever the opportunity arises, and who have a mysterious 'pull' which members of the board not on the inside cannot understand. If this action is taken the material for scandal, so far as the lady teachers are concerned, will have been removed, and there will be no occasion to cast a slur upon the entire corps by the talk of shadowing suspects.

''I unhesitatingly confirm Director Bartholdt's story of the one lady teacher whose misdeeds are a tradition in the board. I know the story and know that it is told in the board, and I also know that there are other scandalous stories affecting a certain other few of the lady teachers that are openly talked of in the board which have never been investigated. I also know that by a strange coincidence those teachers are not only retained, but are promoted at every possible opportunity.

''Further than this, I have an idea which I will not say is based upon a fact, that the influence of those lady teachers with the mysterious 'pull' can be dangerously exercised upon younger teachers anxious to secure promotion. I will content myself with the statement, however, that the only cases of scandal affecting lady teachers that demand investigation, are those I mention, that have never been investigated. Right there is the one point that should be attacked, if the Teachers Committee considers itself the guardian of the good name of the lady teachers of the St. Louis public schools.''

Mr. Hogan's charge, full of sensational possibilities as it is, was made with grave deliberation. It was accompanied by the statement that every member of the School Board Teachers Committee would recognize the cases alluded to.

CHAIRMAN BARSTOW TALKS.

Chairman Barstow of the Teachers Committee, however, appears to be in profound ignorance of the existence of such alleged grave cause for scandal in the ranks of the lady teachers. This in face of the positive assertion of Director Bartholdt and Director Hogan is another of the contradictions encountered in making the exposure of the ''School Board Secret Service System.'' Said Mr. Barstow to a POST-DISPATCH reporter this morning:

''I never heard of such a case as that quoted by Director Bartholdt as 'a matter of tradition in the board.' Yes, it is true that it would have been my duty as Chairman of the Teachers Committee to have investigated the case had it come to my notice. But it has never done so, and I cannot understand how it could have been so openly talked of as to have been a matter of tradition. This secret service idea of President Miller's is a most unfortunate thing for the public schools. Mr. Miller's employment of a detective to spy upon a lady teacher was a most unwarranted proceeding. But I cannot see that it can be regarded as an official act, because he paid the detective out of his own pocket and never made any report of the case to the board. So that in reality that investigation was apparently for the private benefit of Mr. Miller himself, and the board cannot hold him officially responsible for it. No charge against a lady teacher's character for morality has ever been made to me since I was chairman of the Teachers Committee.

''As for the story that Supt. Long practically suppressed a charge against a lady teacher which was backed by sworn testimony, all I can say is that if he has done so he lays himself liable to dismissal from his position. I certainly have never heard of such a case, but I do not believe Supt. Long would have dared to suppress a charge of that nature. I regard this whole affair as most unfortunate, for I look on our lady teachers as representing the best and purest type of our womanhood.''

The day before the first publication in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH of the ''shadowing'' of ''suspect'' lady teachers, School Director Jack P. Richardson volunteered the statement to a POST-DISPATCH reporter that if Supt. Long favored a plan for the employment of detectives for such a purpose he, Richardson, would make it his one duty to secure the Superintendent's removal from office. Supt. Long has since that time written a letter for publication in which he indorsed just such a plan, and Director Richardson's threat became due of fulfilment. He was seen to-day and stated that he saw no way in which the matter could be brought before the board for action and would not attempt to bring the question up. He thought it likely that the subject would be investigated by the boards but was not going to take any action in it himself. He did not believe Supt. Long appreciated the danger of such a system, or would have ever attempted to carry it out. It was rumored after the Teachers Committee meeting yesterday afternoon that Mr. Richardson intended bringing the matter up himself, but his statement this morning dispels that belief. It is the general impression, however, that the School Board will be compelled to take action in the matter through the force of public opinion.

TWO INTERESTING LETTERS.

The POST-DISPATCH has been in receipt of many communications on the subject of the shadowing of teachers, but only those bearing the signatures of the author are given publication. The following are some of those received to-day:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your startling exposition of School Board management given in Sunday's edition was certainly the ''coup'' of the season, and the echoes thus awakened will reverberate through the mind and soul of every human being, who carries under his hat band the gray matter necessary to the construction of an American citizen. What can we say that will fitly characterize men who, ruling, not by the grace of God, but by grace of the commonwealth, custodians of the holiest trust man ever received from a people, the guardianship of its women and children, who would make that sacred thing a target for the slings and arrows of evil minds—the reputations of our women a thing for the vultures and crows of public opinion to fatten on. What a fatuous, loathsome proposition! That a body of men wielding such immense power for weal or woe over the future of hundreds of women, not by virtue of superior culture, judgment, chastity or peculiar equipment in the cardinal virtues, but frequently by absence of these, should be empowered to employ a detective service to prey upon the lives of their women employes. The suggestion is an insult that should make the blood boil in every American heart. It is a scheme eminently worthy of the towering intellects that conceived it. Think of it, a woman's name, that fair and fragile thing that brooks no handling, must be dragged through the mire of suspicion on the testimony of some hireling with ears of a keyhole pattern, or of some microbe in human form who deposits his poison in an anonymous letter. What manner of men are these who would revive the old ''Blue Laws,'' ''Lettres de cachet,'' etc., and set in motion the subtle, diabolical machinery of espionage and surveillance which is the inheritance of despots and cowards! Are these men the depositories of the law and the gospel? Surely there lives must shine before all man like unto illuminated editions of the decalogue, and the perfume of their thoughts and aspirations like the double distilled extract of the odor of sanctity. If so, then glory be to God, for because of these just men our wicked city may yet be saevd. Such a retching and vomiting of pious phlegm is surely a new departure in the annals of municipal corporations.

If our schools are really in a malodorous stage of decomposition, morally speaking, I would respectfully suggest that the officials and directors who are taking the solar walk should sever their connection therewith while there is yet time to preserve their unblemished reputations in all their pristine purity.

A WEAKER SEX.

SHOULD GET OUT.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22, 1891.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Hurrah for the POST-DISPATCH! May it continue its good work. Let us know who are the men that favor these disgraceful, dirty and underhand methods. Something must be radically wrong with the Superintendent and President of the Board. It is high time they make place for others. We wish to know who to vote for so we can get a respectable School Board. Give us more men that have such sentiments as Mr. Barstow expresses.

A FATHER.

It was learned to-day that an impromptu indignation meeting of the lady teachers of the Central High School was held yesterday at which the ''secret service movement'' of President Miller and Supt. Long was denounced in unqualified terms. It is also stated that the ladies of the Normal School and of the Branch High are deeply incensed over the matter, and that a formal public expression on the subject is being talked of.

THE "GEDAECHTNIS TAG."

Annual Celebration Commemorating the Landing of the Schwenkfelders.

READING, Pa., Sept. 23.—The safe arrival of the Schwenkfelders in this country will be commemorated with appropriate ceremonies at Clayton, Washington Township, to-morrow. The celebration is known as the ''Gedaechtnis Tag.'' There are only five congregations of Schwenkfelders in this country, and they are all in the contiguous counties of Berks, Lehigh and Montgomery. The memorial services will cover morning and afternoon, with a simple repast at midday in the meeting house, among the pews and benches, according to the traditional Schwenkfelder custom.

The sect was founded by Caspar Schwenkfeld, a Silesian nobleman and reformer, who lived from 1490 to 1562, and left a notable impress upon the thought and life of his own and succeeding centuries. Born and educated a Catholic, he embraced Protestantism at the beginning of the Reformation, and was instrumental in engrafting in it many of the established principles of modern Protestantism, including the function of the laity in the Church, the right of representation, separation of Church and State, and freedom of conscience.

The sect was driven out of Silesia into Saxony in 1720. Fourteen years later they were forced to flee from Saxony and set sail for America. They landed in Philadelphia Sept. 22, 1734, and next day appeared before the civil authorities and pledged their allegiance to the King of England and the proprietor of the province, William Penn. The day following, Sept. 24, was observed in thanksgiving to God for their safe deliverance from the hands of their persecutors into a haven of refuge. Since that time the day has been sacredly observed by the Schwenkfelders each recurring year.

An Indian Medicine Man Arrested.

J. W. Clifford, alias ''Mustang Jack,'' who claims to be an Indian doctor, was arrested yesterday evening by Detectives Danaher and Schoppe, and J. H. Grimsley of Rosedale Station swore out a warrant against him for fraud. Grimsley charges that he signed a contract with Clifford to peddle medicine in the country with a rig, and that he deposited $100 with Clifford, to be paid back in six months with interest. Grimsley did not receive the outfit Saturday and took action.

J. H. Long, 2949 Dayton street, claims he advanced $125 to Clifford; Zick Freer, 2116 Eugenia street, alleges he gave him $200; Fritz Umbreck of 1735 Wash street lent him $125. The doctor is of the long-haired variety and upon his arrival here began to advertise for solicitors. He alleged he was going to open a laboratory in the basement of his residence, 2031 Walnut street. The police read the advertisements. Last Friday Danaher and Schoppe applied for positions. Clifford informed Schoppe that he would give him a team of mules to travel through Missouri with, but required $400 bond. Danaher he selected for treasurer, but required a bond also from him. Special Officer Thomas Campion advanced Clifford $2 on the position of overseer, and on the officer's evidence Clifford was arrested. Clifford denies all charges of fraud and states that he was doing a legitimate business.

THEIR WORK BEGUN

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows Dealing With Important Questions.

SUBJECTS WHICH CAUSED A PROTRACTED DEBATE TO-DAY.

The Eligibility of Saloon-Keepers—Admission of Young Men Over 18 Years of Age—Sudden and Serious Sickness of Past Grand Master Rixey—The Prize Drills.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows reconvened at Addington Hall, corner of Seventeeth and Olive streets, at 9 o'clock this morning. Business of a routine character was transacted up to 10:30. Reports from committees were submitted and memorials for Grand jurisdictions were filed for action. A committee of Past Grand Sires was appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Past Grand Sire Eril J. Leech of Iowa. The Grand Sires constituting the committee are J. B. Nicholson of Pennsylvania, Jas. P. Sanderson of New York, Cornelius A. Logan of Kansas, John H. White of New York and S. C. Underwood of Kentucky. At 10:30 the lodge went into secret session and all members of the order not active representatives were required to retire. This session lasted until past the noon hour and it was then stated that its duration would be limited only by the gravity and complexity of the subject under discussion.

At the session this afternoon the question of the eighteen-year-old limitation to membership and the eligibility to membership of saloonkeepers, both involving constitutional amendments, are expected to be taken up. This is an off year and no election for Sovereign Grand Lodge officers comes up, the offices being held for terms of two years.

PAST GRAND MASTER RIXEY SICK.

During the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge this morning Past Grand Master Col. T. P. Rixey was taken violently ill at his temporary residence, No. 1707 Olive street, opposite Addington's Hall. His malady seems to be a high fever, initiated by a severe congestive chill, during which it required the united efforts of Grand Secretary Sloan and several brother Odd Fellows to hold him upon his bed. Medical attendance was at once summoned, and at this writing Mr. Rixey has a chance of recovery.

Mr. Rixey is now Grand Lecturer for the State of Missouri and has been very actively employed during the summer. He stated to those at his bedside this morning, that he had been actively engaged in travelling and speaking, averaging not more than four or five hours of rest for several months. This strain had exhausted him and the excessive heat of the past few days was more than he could stand.

ELWOOD WON THE PRIZE.

CAPT. SWITZER OF CHICAGO IS THE BEST DRILLED CHEVALIER OF THE PATRIARCHS.

Only six of the fifteen cantons entered for the prize drills went through their evolutions before the judges. Canton Elwood of Elwood, Ind., got the first prize of $1,000. The judges gave the canton 84.33 out of a possible 100. Canton Frank of Germantown, O., got the second prize of $500, scoring 81.73. Indianapolis was third with 80.10, Occidental followed with 78.50, Lincoln next with 72.14 and St. Joseph last. Its mark was 70. Forty-eight chevaliers competed in the contest for the prize offered to the man most proficient in the sword drill. Officers and chevaliers entered the ranks alike. They were drawn up in two lines facing each other. The commands were given by one of the judges, and the other two watched for mistakes, ordering each man out of the ranks as he made an error. One by one the chevaliers were detected in faults and were sent crestfallen out of the ranks, until there remained only Capt. G. H. Switzer of the Chicago Canton, and Chevaliers J. Coyle and J. W. Jones of Indianapolis. Chevalier Coyle was a trifle slow in raising the point of his sword at an order, and he fell out. Then for two minutes more Capt. Switzer and Chevalier Jones drilled like machines, the crowd in the grand stand applauding each movement until Chevalier Jones let his sword strike his trousers as he brought it down with a swing. That ended the contest and Capt. Switzer got the prize.

The cantons of Columbus and Paducah refused to drill when they learned that they were to be punished for tardiness by a demerit, and to-day the chevaliers of these cantons are loudly grumbling about the decision of the judges.

COLLIDED ON THE TRACK.

INCIDENTS OF THE ATHLETIC SPORTS IN THE AMPHITHEATER.

A big crowd saw the athletic sports in the amphitheater. George Helmich won the 100-yard run, F. V. Fehr the hat kicking contest, Emil Hitchcock the half-mile run, C. A. Smith the walk for veteran Odd Fellows, Will Laing the novice bicycle race, Burt Harding the mile safety and mile ordinary, Johnny Hurck making the seconds, Mrs. King the Daughters of Rebekah stone and egg race, Otto Wawers the sack race and P. W. Hitchings the mile run. R. J. Leacock, the best long distance runner on the grounds, was so heavily handicapped in both the races that he entered that it discouraged him, and he made little effort to win either one. This took all the interest out of the races in which he was. In the next races, Oct. 3, Leacock should be treated with more consideration by the handicappers. Jack Pomarede surprised all his friends by his poor riding in the bicycle race. He is not in it with the racing men of this season. Capt. Roy Tidd of the Missouris rode a slow wheel and made a plucky fight against the steel muscles in Burt Harding's legs. Will Laing collided with Harding in the ordinary race and his wheel was smashed, putting him out of the race. He couldn't have won, anyway. Dick Hurck didn't race, although he was entered, but Johnny gave a good account of the family. Dick is saving himself for a seventeen mile race at Jacksonville, Sept. 24. The affair was excellently managed, and there were no delays.

MR. JOHN M. WHITE is connected with the advertising department of the POST-DISPATCH with the special object of writing up the business interests of St. Louis and vicinity.

SHE WOULD NOT MOVE OUT.

Mrs. Margaret Grumme's House Demolished in Spite of Her Protest.

A large crowd gathered an Seventh and Gratiot streets this afternoon to watch a strange proceeding. A squad of workingmen, under the supervision of E. Y. Sutherland, bridge and building contractor for the Merchants' Terminal Co., were at work tearing down a three story brick building at 725 and 727 South Seventh street over the heads of the inmates. The property is owned by Mrs. Margaret Grumme, a German widow who bought and rebuilt the property twelve years ago. The building immediately adjoins the elevated tracks of the Merchants' Terminal Co. The company has been buying up property in the neighborhood for some time past, and when Mrs. Grumme refused to sell instituted proceedings against her in the Circuit Court. The property was condemned and an appraiser appointed, who allowed her $18,000. She refused to take the money and said she would keep her home and not dispose of it for any price. The company gave her notice to move out over a month ago, but she said they would have to tear the house down over her head before she would leave. She was told that if she was not out inside of a month that was exactly what would happen and Contractor Sutherland with his men came around to-day and proceeded to carry out his promise. Sergt. Boyd and a squad of men were on hand to preserve the peace. The tenants were inclined to show fight at first but the presence of the police quieted them down, and all but Mrs. Grumme made tardy preparations to leave. Mrs. Grumme was in a state bordering on hysterics, and declared that it was an outrage and a shame. She said she had never been offered any money and no money would ever induce her to give up her home. Her brother went out after a lawyer to get an injunction against the company but in the meantime the work of demolition went merrily on.

WEALTH DIDN'T TURN HIS HEAD.

A German Laborer Inherits a Big Fortune and Marries a Poor Girl.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 23.—Richard Hornig, a poor German, settled near Anstell some time ago. He was an honest, hard working farm laborer and won the respect and confidence of all who knew him. He received but little attention from the women in the settlement. But there was one poor girl, Miss Oshields, who was always kind to the stranger, and their friendship soon ripened into love. As both were very poor matrimony was not thought of. A few months ago a letter with a foreign stamp arrived at the Anstell Post-office, directed to Richard Hornig. It announced to him the death of his father in Germany and that he was sole heir to $8,000,000. Mr. Hornig visited Germany, had no trouble in getting his fortune and returned to Anstell last week. Of course this changed his condition, and there was a marked change in the reception accorded him, though his heart was true to the little woman who had been his friend when he was a poor stranger, and he made her his wife yesterday.

Miss Oshields was taken from the cotton-field and arrayed in silk and fine linen and surrounded by all the luxuries that wealth could buy her. Her husband says he intends to send her to the best schools in the Old World to fit her for her new life. When asked why he did not marry an educated girl, Mr. Hornig replied that such had shown him no attention when they thought him a penniless stranger, and he would always feel, should he marry one of them, that his wife wanted him only for his money. He knew the bride he had selected truly loved him and this, he said, was what he desired above all else.

OUR SISTER REPUBLIC.

Dr. W. D. Spore Returns on a Visit and Discusses Mexican Affairs.

Dr. W. D. Spore, a former St. Louisan, who has been residing in Mexico several years, is in the city visiting his father, Capt. James Spore, on Park avenue. He says that the Republic south of the Rio Grande is in a very prosperous condition and that there is no truth whatever in the recently circulated report that the Diaz government is in danger of being overthrown by a revolution. ''The opening of the country to railroads has given a wonderful impetus to business,'' said the Doctor yesterday. ''Monteroy is practically an American city, while in the City of Mexico we have a colony of 2,000 Anglo-Americans. I have in the last six months made an extensive tour of the seacoast and middle states of the Republic and have been pleased to observe the evidences of progress and improvement on every hand, and reports from the border States also bear testimony to the awakening of the Mexican people from their lethargy of the past. President Diaz governs with a firm but a gentle hand. He has brought order out of chaos, and has established a government which has secured peace and prosperity at home and honor and credit abroad. He is probably the hardest working executive in the world. He is a man of high character and unusual ability. He is anxious to raise his country to its proper place—next in rank to the United States among American republics. He possesses the confidence of the people, and the army is enthusiastically devoted to him.

President Diaz is an outspoken friend of Americans and American institutions and favors the closest social and commercial relations with the States. The English language is spoken by a great many native Mexicans and newspapers are published in English in several cities. The City of Mexico has two such dailies—the Two Republics and the Anglo-American. The press there is free, but libelous articles, whether against private individuals or officials, do not go unchallenged. The religion of the country is Catholic, but all denominations are tolerated and protected.

''Mrs. Diaz is a most charming lady and is devoted to charity and work among the poor. The talk about tyranny in Mexico is the sheerest nonsense. The capital of the country is one of the quietest and best governed cities in the world, and life and property are perfectly safe anywhere in the Republic. The hoodlum and rowdy element may be more severely dealt with than here, but American roughs in Mexico are, as a rule, treated with far more consideration and leniency than they deserve.''

CLAIMED BY THEIR MOTHER.

Two Young Girls Taken From the House of the Good Shepherd.

Jennie and Mabel James, aged 16 and 12 respectively, were taken from the House of the Good Shepherd yesterday by their mother, Mrs. Gallagher, a song and dance artist at present employed at the London Theater. Both children have led a very unhappy existence. Owing to their mother's occupation they have been neglected. A few years ago the older of the girls was put in the House of the Good Shepherd by her grandfather, a Mr. Horn, as she showed signs of waywardness. The younger child, who, despite her tender years, has traveled alone all through Illinois, Kentucky and Ohio, was placed in the convent by the same gentleman a few months ago. The children grew to love the place and showed no inclination to go back to their old way of living. They had never received any religious instruction previous to entering the convent, but evinced there a desire to take part in the religious exercises of the community. With the consent of their grandfather they were baptised. A few days ago the mother called to see her daughters, and the older one appeared wearing a white bonnet as a token that she was a child of Mary, high honor among the Magdelines. The mother, imagining she was going to enter the order at once, demanded that she go home with her. The girl refused and the mother left, threatening to get her out if she had to invoke the aid of the law to do it. She went to Justice Pat Kane Saturday, and from there to Lawyer John B. Dempsey. He advised her to get out a writ of habeas corpus. Before applying for a writ the mother went yesterday to the House of the Good Shepherd and again demanded her older daughter. She did not want the younger one for some inexplicable reason. The girls expressed the utmost unwillingnsss to go with their mother, and begged and pleaded most piteously with the sisters to keep them. The mother was loth to take the little girl, but was opliged to do so in order to get the older girl out. The older girl was very reluctant to leave.

TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL.

Mr. Rolla L. Billingsley Reported to Be in a Dangerous Condition.

Mr. Rolla L. Billingsley, President of the Billingsley & Nanson Commission Co., is lying dangerously ill at his home, 3510 Lindell avenue. Monday evening about 6 o'clock he complained of not feeling well, and as the air in the house seemed close and oppresive, he went out into the yard intending to take a seat on the lawn. He was accompanied by a married daughter, and had hardly taken a seat when he became unconscious. Dr. McPheeters was called in and in a little while Mr. Billingsley was restored to consciousness. He rested quietly throughout the night, but his condition is still considered alarming.

Interesting Question Affecting the Catholic Church and Odd Fellowship.

IMPORTANT OPINION OF ARCHBISHOP CORRIGAN'S SECRETARY.

The Relationship of the Church Toward the Odd Fellows Organization Discussed by Vicar-General Brady, Chancellor Van der Sanden and Others—The Grounds for Catholic Opposition.

A telegram from New York states that a question of much interest to the Roman Catholic Church and its relations to secret societies has just been raised in that archdiocese. According to the telegram a member of the Catholic Church named O'Keefe is also a member in good standing of the Odd Fellows order in Addison, N. Y., and it is proposed to get a decision from Archbishop Corrigan on the subject. The Archbishop of New York is at present absent from that city, but his Secretary, the Rev. Father Lovelle, is quoted as saying that it was no longer against the rules of the Roman Catholic Church to be an Odd Fellow. This is by no means the first time the question has been raised. Less than a year ago it was brought up and it furnished a topic for some interesting discussion. There seems to be a difference of opinion among the dignitaries of the Catholic Church on the subject of its relation to the society of Odd Fellows, some contending that the church is actively opposed to it, while oteers say the organization has not been classed in the same category with the A. F. & A. M.

VICAR GENERAL BRADY'S VIEWS.

Archbishop Kenrick could not be seen this morning and Vicar General Brady was interrogated on the subject. He said: ''While the church does not regard the Odd Fellows organization in the same light as the Masonic fraternity, yet she has reasons for counseling her members not to join the order. I must admit that I am not very well posted on the affairs of the organization, but my impression is that there is a chaplain for each lodge, an iron-clad oath and other features that the church cannot indorse. The fact that there is a chaplain for each lodge makes it a religious organization, and the Catholic Church wants its members to worship in that faith alone. The church is jealous, and rightfully so, on this point. The Catholic Church does not object to societies that are purely benevolent, but it certainly does not want its members to take oaths that are blindly subscribed to by the members of these organizations. Again we know that the secret societies of Europe use the less objectionable organizations as stepping-stones for the Catholics. They become members of such societies as are not condemned and in the course of time they are worked into the other organizations that are openly opposed by the church. Catholics might if they joined the Odd Fellows order, soon drift into Masonry and that is what the church aims to prevent. I know nothing about the New York case, and if Archbishop Corrigan is going to give a decision in the premises, I will be pleased to read it.''

CHANCELLOR VON DER DANDEN SEEN.

Rev. Father Von der Danden, the Chancellor of this arch-diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, was shown the dispatch this morning and asked his opinion of the attitude of the church to the Odd Fellows' Order. He said: ''I was taught at the theological seminary I attended that the church looked upon Odd Fellowship as it viewed the Masonic order. There are three organizations found in the church rules that come under the ex-communication head. They are the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, the Corbonari, and the Fenians. The Corbonari is the Italian branch of the Maconic fraternity. The Fenian order has been included only in recent years. Still if the OddFellows' order has an iron clad oath that makes the member obey the good, bad and indifferent commands of his superior officers, I don't see how a Catholic can consistently or conscientiously be a member. I have never seen the book of constitutions of the Odd Fellows, and all I know about the organization is from hearsay. Then there is another point which must be considered. If the order has chaplains to conduct religious services in the meetings, this makes it a sect, at least in my opinion, and a Catholic has no business in it if he values his creed above other consideratians. Though I do not believe that the order is nominally excommunicated, still I do not believe a Catholic should join it. It is certainly a dangerous thing for a consistent Roman Catholic to join.''

FATHER PHELAN'S VIEWS.

''Odd Fellows are not under the ban of the church, but they are certainly frowned down on,'' said Rev. Father Phelan. ''I do not know what Father Lovelle meant by saying that the ban against Odd Fellowship had been removed. There never was, to my knowledge, a ban against the Odd Fellows. At the last council at Baltimore a committee was appointed to investigate the order, but they failed to make a report as an investigation of the methods of the order failed to show anything which would bring it under the ban of the church. There is a distinction between banning and condemning. Some things which are not strictly right have not been placed under the ban of the church. These we speak of in a general way as being condemned. I have never heard of the Odd Fellows being 'named.' In fact, they could not be, for in England a number of Catholics belong to the society. However, the church does not approve of the organization or others of a similar nature and that is sufficient to keep her children from joining them.''

AN ODD FELLOW'S OPINION.

Lieut.-Gen. Underwood of the Patriarchs Militant, one of the higher branches of Odd Fellowship, was asked if there were many Catholics in the order. ''That is more than I can tell you,'' he replied. We have something like 1,400,000 members, and I guess some of them are Catholic, but I have no idea how many. I know nothing about the New York case and would rather be familiar with all the details before expressing an opinion. The Catholic Church dignitaries have, I understand, removed the ban that used to apply to the Odd Fellows and other organizations as to the Masonic fraternity.''

WHERE IS WM. METZGER?

He Is Entitled to a Share in a Fortune of $125,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Up to two months ago William Metzger kept a barber shop on Fourth avenue. He went to Chicago then and established himself at 57 Elbourn avenue in that city. Yesterday the following personal appeared in a morning paper:

William Metzger, barber, 20 years, born in Frankfurt on the Main, Oct. 14, 1871, call personally or send your address to Mr. George Kissinger, 190 Eighth avenue.

A reporter called on Mr. Kissinger, who said that William Metzger, Sr., was an old friend of his. Metzger's only child, the missing young man, had served his apprenticeship and at the time of his disappearance was an expert barber. That was about six years ago, and since then nothing has been heard of him. Two weeks ago a brother of Metzger, Sr., died in Chicago, leaving about $125,000 to his next of kin, who are the William Metzgers, father and son. Not a line has been received from the young man and a description is lacking as he has doubtless changed materially since he ran away. A good share of the $125,000 is a strong magnet, however, and it would not be surprising if young Metzger found his way to Chicago within a short time.

TROUBLE TO-NIGHT.

Lively Times Expected at the Trades and Labor Union Meeting.

BITTER FEELING BETWEEN THE WARRING FACTIONS OF STONEMASONS.

The Local Union Claims That the Federation Union Was Organized Under an Abandoned Charter and That It Is Made Up Largely of Men Expelled From the Local Union.

At the meeting of the Trades and Labor Union to-night at Trades and Labor Hall, 418 South Fourth street, the stonemasons' fight will come up for consideration and be bitterly contested. Stonemasons' Union 5,469, American Federation of Labor, was ruled out of the parade on Labor Day on the objection of the local stonemasons' union which is not affiliated with the American Federation. No. 5,469 complained to Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, who sustained them. This placed the Trades and Labor Union on the defensive to explain its position or answer the charge of violating the provisions of its charter, and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter. This committee will make its report to-night.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The investigations of the committee as embodied in the report which will be read to-night instead of clearing the matter up will tend to complicate affairs still further. For some time the Trades and Labor Union has been desirous of having the stonemasons, bricklayers and a few other strong local unions affiliate with them. Being in a position not requiring aid the unions referred to held aloof. Finally the union of stonemasons now known as 5,469, A. F. of L., attached themselves with the Trades and Labor Union. In sending out the invitations for the Labor Day parade the local order of stonemasons, some 600 strong, were invited to take part and accepted upon condition that the American Federation branch be not allowed to march, for reasons hereafter set forth.

Grand Marshal De Vaux granted the request and was sustained by a vote of the delegates of the Trades and Labor Union. No. 5,469 appealed from the decision as before stated, but did not attempt to take part in the parade. The local order of stonemasons after the parade decided to affiliate themselves with the Trades and Labor Union and at the last meeting of the body sent delegates. The regular delegates from Stonemasons' No. 5,469, American Federation of Labor, were also in attendance. The officers of the Trades and Labor Union were in a dilemma. Here were more stonemasons than they could handle. They would like to have them all, which would be an acquisition to their ranks of nearly 800 men, but they could not reconcile the factions, and the local order of stonemasons, as they are called, would not recognize the American Federation of Labor stonemasons which were already connected with the Trades and Labor Union. The matter was settled for the time being by refusing to admit delegates from either branch of the stonemasons until the committee at work on the case should make its report.

LOCAL STONEMASONS MAKE CHARGES.

The local stonemasons, or more properly speaking, the St. Louis Operative Stonemasons' Union, then went to work proving their charges against the local American Federation Union, the members of which the Operative Union regards in the same light as non-union men. The Operative Union denies that the American Federation stonemasons ever belonged to the St. Louis Operative Union of Stonemasons as a body, and charges that there are many members in it who have been expelled from the Operative Union and that there are fines entered against their names on the books to-day. All this has been laid before the committee from the Trades and Labor Union which has been investigating the matter and will come up at the meeting of the Trades and Labor to-night.

If the charges of the Operative Union Stonemasons be proven it will place the Trades and Labor people in deep water. The union is now technically guilty of violating the provisions of its charter in refusing to give a branch of the American Federation of Labor a place in the Labor Day procession. There are also charges made against the Trades and Labor to the effect that in its zeal to swell its membership it has been admitting bodies not in good standing in labor circles. If the allegations of the Operative Stonemasons against the American Federation men be proven to-night, the charge against the Trades and Labor Union of failure to look up records will also be proven. So whichever way the case may go, interesting developments are likely to follow, and a lively time may be expected at the meeting to-night.

DELEGATE COSTELLO'S STATEMENT.

Mr. Patrick J. Costello, delegate from the St. Louis Operative Stonemasons' Union, gave the following history of the controversy to a POST-DISPATCH reporter to-day:

''The stonemasons of St. Louis,'' said Mr. Costello, ''were organized in St. Louis in 1872. During the panic we adjourned sine die. In 1880 we assembled again. The bricklayers joined with us in 1885, the union being known as the Bricklayers and Masons' International Union. We were divided into three branches—No. 1, which met on Franklin avenue; North St. Louis was No. 2, and No. 3 was in South St. Louis. After the Kansas City convention of 1890, we withdrew from the bricklayers and formed a union of our own with two branches, an English speaking and a German branch. This did away with No. 3, the South St. Louis branch, which marched up to headquarters and surrendered all its records, etc.

''A copy of its charter was overlooked and left hanging on the wall. Now, in building the American Brewery it was stipulated in the contract that the labor should all be union labor. The contractor employed nothing but non-union men. The charter of No. 3 was found where it was left and the men formed themselves into a union under it for the job, but we never recognized them. There are some men among them that we would receive into our union as though we had never seen them before and there are others we would not. We have prepared a list of fifty-seven names, which we have given to the Trades and Labor Investigating Committee, of men who have been expelled from our union. There are fines entered against them to-day.

''That is the reason we refused to march with them. We will not have anything to do with them until those men clear themselves. It is not true that we were incensed at them for withdrawing from our union, for they never belonged to it.''

Comp. Ext. Smart-Weed, . . 50c.
Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, . 50c.

But at these prices, which must be paid for the genuine, Dr. Pierce's medicines are not only the best, but they're the cheapest, for they're guaranteed in every case to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.

There's "value received," or there's no pay.

The manufacturers take all the risk by selling them on trial! As no other medicines are sold, through druggists, on such liberal and trying terms—it's an insult to your intelligence for any dealer to attempt to substitute other medicines for these, by recommending them to be "just as good," only that he may make a larger profit.

A Statement That Brooklyn May Jump the League.

THE CLUB HAS MADE NO MONEY IN THAT ORGANIZATION.

St. Louis Scores Another Victory in the Ball Field—Entries for the A. A. U. Athletic Championships Here—Cal McCarthy Whips Tommy Warren—Racing on Various Tracks.

Will there be an American Association club in Brooklyn next season? is a question often asked, but as yet unanswered, says the New York Recorder. It is also asked: Will Byrne, Doyle and Abeel be at the head of it?

New deals are being made in base ball, and so nothing surprises the public nowadays. If the questions should be asked President Byrne he would certainly deny them with all the vehemence at his command. There would be no other course open for him. Mr. Abeel would tell you the same as President Byrne. But Mr. Doyle—well, he might for policy's sake, but if he did not happen to feel like it he would tell you the plain, unvarnished truth that he has no love for the National League.

The truth is, Byrne, Doyle and Abeel are tired of the League's methods, which are to throttle and choke to death everything that does not yield to its command. Does any one suppose that Byrne has forgotten A. G. Spalding made the break when the Association withdrew from the National agreement of saying that every player who left the League would be blacklisted? No; nor have a certain few forgotten how that utterance injured the League in the estimation of the public.

As already stated, Byrne, Doyle and Abeel are not satisfied with the way things are running. Mr. Abeel spent considerable time last spring trying to arrange peace between the League and the Association, but failed. During the past month President Byrne has been doing his utmost to attain that end. It is a well known fact that since being in the League the Brooklyn club has not made any money, whereas in the Association it did. Bryne, Doyle and Abeel own half the stock of the present Brooklyn club, the Players' League element of Brooklyn owning the other half. The latter paid $40,000 to Byrne, Doyle and Abeel—at least it will be paid.

There is nothing to prevent Byrne, Doyle and Abeel from withdrawing from the club and entering the Association, engaging a new team and playing Sunday games at Ridgewood. With Byrne back in the Association it would be Spalding fighting Byrne, and there is every reason to believe that the little President across the bridge would not get the worst end of the deal.

Brooklyn may not withdraw, but it is a possibility, as all three are tired of the way some of the League people are conducting affairs.

Right after the meeting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel President Byrne was sitting in the cafe, when it was asked of him: "Were you for peace, Mr. Byrne?" "Yes, I was," he answered.

"Why was it not attained?"

"I refuse to talk on that subject."

"Was Mr. Brush for peace?"

"That I refuse to say."

At this point John T. Brush made his appearance and the question was put to him.

"Most decidedly I was for peace," he said. And he and Bryne are the two most brainy men in the League and can see which way the wind blows.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

The Browns had no trouble in defeating the Washington team yesterday, although the visitors took quite a spurt in the eighth inning and hammered out eight runs, most of which were registered on account of the miserable infield work of the local amateurs who have been attempting to cover second and third bases. McSweeny's work at second was wretched, and the sickening manner in which he attempted to field easy balls almost set the cranks into hysterics. Rick's chances of remaining on the team are below zero. His work was simply frightful. The Senators as usual played in a "don't care manner" which they are noted for, and what little reputation they had as ball players in this city went up in smoke after yesterday's exhibition. Few of the attendants stayed the game out, as it lasted until darkness came to the rescue and put a stop to it. The summary was as follows: Browns, 12; Washington, 7. Base hits—Browns, 17; Washington, 7. Errors—Browns, 8; Washington, 8. Batteries—Browns, Rettger, Burrell and Boyle; Washington, Carsey and McGuire.

At Columbus: Columbus, 10; Baltimore, 8. Base hits—Columbus, 12; Baltimore, 8. Errors—Columbus, 3; Baltimore, 4. Batteries—Columbus, Leiper and Donahue; Baltimore, Healy and Robinson.

At Milwaukee: Boston, 5; Milwaukee, 3. Base hits—Boston, 13; Milwaukee, 7. Errors—Boston, 0; Milwaukee, 6. Batteries—Boston, O'Brien and Murphy; Milwaukee, Davies and Grim.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Cincinnati—Chicago, 4; Cincinnati, 1. Base hits—Chicago, 7; Cincinnati, 4. Errors—Chicago, 2; Cincinnati, 3. Batteries—Chicago, Vickery and Schriever; Cincinnati, Rhines and Keenan.

At Boston: Boston, 5; Brooklyn, 4. Base hits—Boston, 5; Brooklyn, 4. Errors—Boston, 1; Brooklyn, 2. Batteries—Boston, Nichols and Bennett; Brooklyn, Lovett and Kinslow.

At New York: Philadelphia, 4; New York, 3; Base hits—Philadelphia, 7; New York, 9. Errors—Philadelphia, 2; New York, 9. Batteries—Philadelphia, Gleason and Clements; New York, Welch and O'Rourke.

Second game: New York, 11; Philadelphia, 5; Base hits—New York, 14; Philadelphia, 7. Errors—New York, 2; Philadelphia, 3. Batteries—New York, Coughlin and O'Rourke; Philadelphia, Esper, Kleng and Fields.

At Pittsburg: Cleveland, 5; Pittsburg, 2. Base hits—Cleveland, 11; Pittsburg, 6. Errors—Cleveland, 1; Pittsburg, 3. Batteries—Cleveland, Viau and Zimmer; Pittsburg, King and Miller.

THE WHEEL.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 23.—C. W. Dortnge of Buffalo, N. Y., established the record for ten and twenty miles on a bicycle with a patched up tire. He lowered the ten mile record from 28m. 37 4-5s. to 26m. 46 3-5s., and the twenty mile from 58m. 30s. to 53m. 56 2-5s.

THE RING.

As was predicted in last night's POST-DISPATCH Cal McCarthy had no trouble in defeating Tommy Warren. The fight took place in the rooms of the Olympic Athletic Club at New Orleans last night and was a great success financially. Over 4,000 people paid the regular price of admission to the ring side, and no trouble was experienced with the police, who took no notice of the fight. Both men fought at 118 pounds. John Duffy acted as referee and John Dixon master of ceremonies. Messrs. Haley and Robinson seconded Warren and O'Mara and Brown were behind McCarthy. Neither principal seemed to have the better of it up to the ninth round. But here McCarthy's superior staying powers began to show up, and this, coupled with the fact that Warren seemed to have lost confidence in himself, made the result a foregone conclusion. In the twentieth round he was knocked out completely and was only saved by time being called. The next round McCarthy went at him viciously and Warren soon gave it up. The purse was $1,500, of which $1,200 went to the winner.

SCROFULOUS SORES

Lady Badly Afflicted Three Years, Tries Many Doctors Here and in England Without Benefit. Cured by Cuticura.

My wife having suffered from Scrofula sores on the back for three years, and at times she could not lie down at night, and she tried all the doctors I could get, and also went to England to try and be cured there, and all of them failed, and told her they could do nothing for her; and having tried all kinds of remedies I at last tried one box of your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and to-day she is as well as she ever was in her life, and her back is as clear as any person living, and I for one can recommend CUTICURA REMEDIES as the only one I could find to effect a cure. G. W. JONES, Constable.

Inherited Scrofula

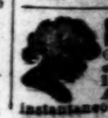

My nose was a most pronounced crimson hue, the result of inherited scrofula. I suffered untellable mortification daily, and tried enough remedies to stock a drug store without deriving the slightest benefit. I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and the most flattering results followed their use. I am all right now, and cannot find encomiums enough to bestow upon what I know to be the greatest and grandest gifts given by science to man. Please accept the most sincere and grateful thanks of one who has suffered.

A Dream of Happiness

May be followed by a morning of "La Grippe." Easily, and, and why? Because the displacement of covering in bed, a neglected draught from a partly closed window, an open transom connected with a windy entry in a hotel, may convey to your nostrils and lungs the death-dealing blast. Terrible and swift are the inroads made by this new destroyer. The medicated alcoholic principle in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will check the dire complaint. A persistence in this preventive of its further development will absolutely checkmate the dangerous malady. Unmedicated alcoholic stimulants are of little or no value. The just medium is the Bitters. Not less efficacious is it in cases of malaria, billiousness, constipation, rheumatism, dyspepsia and kidney trouble. The weak are usually those upon whom disease fastens first. Invigorate with the Bitters.

Manufacturers in Denverside Find Fine Water 40 Feet Down.

This Discovery Adds the Only Advantage Needed to Make Manufacturing Cheaper in Denverside Than Anywhere Else—Coal at 70 Cents a Ton, Lower Taxes, Water at No Cost, Cheap Land, Perfect Command of Markets.

The Malleable Iron Co. and many of the other manufacturers who are building big factories in Denverside, have discovered that by driving pipes forty to fifty feet at any point, they can get an inexhaustable supply of water that is cool and clear as crystal. Evaporation shows no deposit, and proves it to be void of corrosive elements. Engineers say it is the finest steam water extant. This discovery renders Denverside manufacturers independent of water works. What, with cheap ground, low taxes, railroad connection with every market in the country, and coal at 70 cents a ton, Denverside is destined to be the manufacturing center of the west.

In conversation with a Republic reporter, Col. A. K. Florida of Florida, Hammett & Noel, who auction 40,000 feet Oct. 2 and 3, says that manufacturers are flocking for factory sites from all points.

THE RUSSIAN ARMY.

No Foreigners Permitted to Witness the Maneuvers in Poland.

THE NEW ARMS AND SMOKELESS POWDER TO BE TESTED.

Troops on Short Rations—The Westward Movement Watched by Germany—Spain Will Not Join the Franco-Russian Alliance—Effect of New Passport Regulations in Alsace-Lorraine.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Gen. Mirkovitch, who is in command of the Fifteenth Army corps at Warsaw, and is in charge of the Russian Army maneuvers in Poland, has issued an order for the immediate arrest of any person endeavring to witness the maneuvers without a passport from himself and he is said to be under strict instructions to keep out all foreigners and newspaper correspondents. The behavior of the Russian troops under the fire of smokeless powder, about which much curiosity is felt in military circles, is, therefore, not likely to be known. The Russian Government is straining every nerve to keep the army sufficiently supplied with food, and thereby prevent discontent among the troops. It is said that the garrison at Khartoff was on half rations during ten days of the month in consequence of a failure of the supply department to do its duty. The responsible officer was degraded in rank.

An Odessa correspondent telegraphs his paper: The Russian Government has ordered twenty engines and 535 carriages for transportation purposes on the Warsaw line.

The Berlin Kreutzer Zeitung, in a warning article on the westward movements of the Russian troops, says: The cavalry depots on the German frontier are three times as strong as formerly, and new depots are being forwarded. Such measures speak for themselves.

The Russian press advocate neutrality on the part of Russia in the Chinese rioting question. The Novoe Vremya urges the Government to take advantage of the disturbed condition of affairs to strengthen her position in the extreme East.

The report that Spain contemplates joining Russia and France in their entente against the rest of the world is semi-officially denied at Madrid.

THE PASSPORT DECREE.

ITS PROMULGATION MEANT TO STILL THE AGITATION OVER THE ERFURT SPEECH.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Berlin advices say that the promulgation of the Alsace-Lorraine passport decree has produced an easier feeling in commercial circles here, quieting the vague war alarms caused by the Emperor's vehement speech at Erfurt.

The North German Gazette, referring to the relaxation of the passport regulations in Alsace-Lorraine, says that taking this step at the present time is evidence of the confidence that the German Government has in the inhabitants of the Reichsland. "The strong feeling of security," that newspaper adds, "prevailing in official circles, in contrast to the nervousness displayed in other quarters, ought to confirm the conviction that the authorities consider the Reichsland consolidated.

"Naturally no other changes will be made in the principles that the Government has followed towards the province."

The Parisian press sees in the incident much upon which to base hopes of future peace. The Temps pays a tribute of sincere praise to the authors of what it terms "the peace producing" decree regarding the Alsace-Lorraine passport regulation. "It says: "Germany thus testifies to the fact that the regrouping of the powers does not constitute an element of perturbation in Europe. No reason exists for not greeting with joy a measure affording such real relief in the relations of two great governments."

La Nation says: "The maneuver speeches of President Carnot and M. De Freycinet gave such prominence to the genuine pacific spirit actuating France that Germany understood that she also must make some concession in favor of peace."

La Liberte comments on the Alsatian passport decree in a vein similar to that of the Temps and expresses the hope that it may be meant to extenuate the effect of Emperor William's irritating speech at Erfurt.

GRAND DUKE OF BADEN.

HIS REPORTED SPEECH NOT CREDITED IN BERLIN—FRENCH OPINION.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—In this city the alleged speech of the Grand Duke of Baden, in which, according to the Dix Nieuveme Siecle of Paris, he expressed the belief that the time was near "when Germany must again unsheath the sword in defense of her independence against an enemy which has not learned prudence by a bloody defeat," is discredited. It is said that the Grand Duke's only recent utterance, so far as known, is that in which he expressed his satisfaction to the citizens of Saar-Louis, in Rhenish Prussia, that Germans were always united when the Emperor and the empire are in question.

A Paris dispatch says that the warlike utterances of the Grand Duke of Baden have produced very little effect there, the French being already convinced that the Kaiser and his confidants are for war whenever they can find a pretext. The Paris papers express thorough satisfaction with the condition of the French army and its ability to cope with any foe.

PERMANENTLY ORGANIZED.

The Illinois Russian Colonization Society—Objects, Rules and Regulations.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 23.—The Russian Colonization Society has been permanently organized. A meeting of the incorporators of the society was held yesterday, at which officers were elected, United States Senator John M. Palmer being chosen president; ex-Gov. Richard J. Oglesby, first vice-president, and Rabbi Isaac Rubenstein, director-general. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and the details of the work of the society talked over at some length. The outlook is considered favorable for the establishment of a colony of refugees in Southern Illinois and Missouri. Rabbi Rubenstein has a number of letters from land owners in various sections of Illinois and Missouri offering land for sale for colonization purposes on all sorts of terms. Rabbi Rubenstein thinks it possible, if everything runs smoothly, to have a colony established within the next four weeks. The constitution adopted provides:

"The society shall be non-partisan and non-sectarian. The objects are: 1. To assist by way of colonization all worthy destitute Russian refugees who are heads of families to become self-supporting. 2. To give all moral and material aid in its power to educate the colonists and their children so they may become worthy American citizens."

The membership fee is 5 cents a week or $2.50 a year. Any member who shall contribute $100 or its equivalent becomes a life member. The Director-General shall have power to establish branch societies wherever he may deem advisable, such branch societies to have power to collect membership dues, and to receive donations. No colony shall be established with less than ten families. Provision is made for the appointment of an overseer who shall have the immediate supervision of the colony and who shall be paid a salary to be fixed by the executive board. An agent shall be placed at the colony who shall receive the products of the colonists and dispose of them through reputable commission merchants. When a colonist has paid up in full without interest for all he has received, he shall receive a quitclaim deed for the land he occupies. Provision is made for disposing of unworthy colonists and filling vacancies.

DR. BURCHARD DYING.

The Clergyman Whom Three Words Made Famous.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The Rev. Dr. S. Burchard is alarmingly ill at his boarding-house, No. 7 Franklin Square, in this village. He was prostrated with lumbago on Sunday. Monday he was more comfortable and hopes were entertained of his speedy recovery, but yesterday the case was more aggravated, and at 6 o'clock last night his sons were notified that he was failing and had expressed a desire to see them.

The grouping of three words and their utterance on a memorable occasion made Dr. Burchard's name familiar to newspaper readers the world over, and gave it a place in history. It was he who, at the celebrated political gathering in Blaine's honor at New York during the presidential campaign of 1884, congratulated the Maine statesman that his success meant the defeat of "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." For a time the country rang with the words, and by many the defeat of Blaine was in large measure attributed to the reverend gentleman's impolitic speech. Mr. Blaine himself estimated that Burchard's alliteration cost him 17,000 votes in the State of New York alone.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observer Weather Bureau.

River News.

The abnormally hot and dry state of the weather seems to have infused into the river traffic a spirit of indifferent languor which makes news of a wet nature particularly scarce for the time being. The level of the water has not changed since yesterday, having now reached that where it is spring fed from sources but little affected by trivial weather changes but it still has a foot to decline to reach the low water mark of last winter.

The new boat Capt. Prince is having built at West Brownsville, Pa., for the Natchez and Bayou Sara trade will be 135 feet long, 23 feet beam, with a depth of 4 feet hold. Her keel has already been laid.

Richard Carroll, the owner of a ferry-boat at Cape Girardeau, Mo., which he ran without a licensed pilot, had $75 of a $100 fine heretofore imposed remitted.

About 15,000,000 feet of lumber under way for the St. Louis market is detained by low water at various points on the Upper Mississippi.

The departures yesterday were the R. A. Speed, Brickey's; Josie Grafton, Spread Eagle, Grafton; Sidney, Keokuk; Belle of Memphis, Grand Tower; City of Vicksburg, Natchez; Ferd Herold, Memphis; E. M. Norton, Cairo.

The Helena will get away for Missouri River this afternoon with a big trip.

The Hiawatha is still lying at the foot of Biddle street.

The snag boat C. R. Suter is working in Missouri River, prominent steamboatmen say she is working in the wrong end of the river, as there will be no more steamboating in that end of the river this year, while the lower end of the river is in very bad condition.

Steamboatmen at Pittsburg are howling about the bad condition of the Upper Ohio.

The pilots of the Ferd Herold counted sixty-four bad snags on this up trip that should they say be pulled as soon as possible.

The Josie brought the Spread Eagle's trip from Grafton down to Alton last night.

The Ferd Herold got away for Memphis on time with a good trip of freight and full of people.

The City of Sheffield leaves for Tennessee River this evening, and will have all the freight she can handle on the water.

The pilots on the Dillon report the White Eagle aground below here.

Capt. James Kager left for Paducah last night.

Two Lives Lost.

Frank Evans and James Burns, two laborers in the employ of J. H. Dunlap, the contractor and builder, were killed about 6 o'clock last night, by the falling of the second floor of the concert hall, at 206 Market street. The building is an historic old landmark. It was erected in 1839, and used for a while as a dancing hall by Prof. Daupe. Subsequently it was used as a Mormon Temple, a music hall, a wine-room and finally as a warehouse. Mr. S. J. Hogan, the lesssee, wishing to tear down the structure and erect a business block let the contract to Dunlap. He put his men to work, and by last evening they had removed a story and a half from the rear wall of 206 Market street, and were standing on a platform near the rear of the building when the second floor came down with a crash, burying the men in the cellar under a pile of debris. An alarm of fire was sounded, and the firemen quickly recovered the bodies of the two men. An ambulance was summoned, and the bodies taken to the Morgue. Both men are unmarried.

Losing Their Shade Trees.

Euclid avenue in Cleveland is losing its fine elms. They are dying off, to the great sorrow of the citizens. An expert who has examined them reports that they are suffering from the soft coal soot. It falls upon the leaves and absolutely chokes up the pores and kills the tree by slow suffocation. Our readers can see, therefore, that if this is so injurious to a tree, what must its effects be upon people. The same causes that will produce a deleterious effect upon the minute pores in a leaf will also affect the minute pores in the lungs. Therefore, in this soot poisoned atmosphere a cold becomes doubly dangerous. On its first appearance you should get a bottle of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure and take it. It contains no opiate or poison, but is a gentle stimulant that will enable the system to throw off the disturbing influence that impedes respiration. For sale by all dealers.

Grain.

Wheat—One's afraid and the other daresn't, was the situation in the home market this morning. The bulls were afraid of further financial troubles and the bears dared not fight a market that has shown so much elasticity of late. This and a scarcity of outside orders led to rather light trading and a quiet market. Cables reported quiet to dull markets abroad, and declines of ⅝c in Liverpool and ¾c in London, and these had a repressive effect upon buyers, also, yet did not lead to free selling. Outside of the Nortnwest, 948 cars arriving at Duluth and Minneapolis, receipts were smaller, especially in this market. The continued dry weather throughout the winter wheat section was a bullish factor, as was also some warlike news from Europe, and the market finally advanced 1c, with considerable of a demand on the advance. This was not maintained, and the market turned weak and subsequentitly became even weaker, reports of a tight money market in New York and that the Signal Service had predicted rain for to-morrow in the winter wheat section having most effect. The clearances were only fair—16,124 pkgs flour and 468,300 bu wheat—from four ports and Bradstreet's came out with a 3,122,000 bu increase in its visible, and, with declining markets in all directions, latest Liverpool was 1@1¼c off, and Paris 2@3c lower—the selling pressure increased. Emboldened by the bearish conditions, the selling for short account increased, and considerable long wheat came out. From the top there was 2⅛c decline, and the close was 1@1⅛c below yesterday.

FUTURES—Sept. sold at 96⅛c to 95⅝c@¾c and Oct. at 96⅜c and at close Sept. offered at 95c and Oct. not worth over 95¼c. Dec. opened at 99⅝c and sold to 99¼c to $1 to 99½@⅜c to 99⅞ to 99¼c to 99½c to 98⅝c to 98⅛c to 97¾c to 98⅛c to 97⅞@98c and latter bid at close. May sold at $1.06⅛ to $1.04⅞ and at close offered at $1.04¾.

SPOT GRADES—Lower. Most sales of No. 2 red on the call were ⅛c lower, regular at 96⅛c, and ¼c off E. side at 96¼c, but sold there also at 96c, afterwards at 95¾c and at close not worth over 95c. No. 3 red was ¼@⅜c lower this side at 89¾c in D. and C. and 90c in St. L., M. and Cdlt., and ¾c lower E. side at 90½c, but after futures broke off, these rates not obtainable. No. 4 sold at 83½c and on call 83½c bid for regular, 83¾c for St. L., 85c for Cdlt. Rejected sold at 70c. No. 2 hard winter offered in U. at 88c, bid 86¼c and 86c bid regular, 86½c for St. L. No. 3 hard winter offered in St. L. at 81c, and in U. at 82¼c.

SALES—No. 2 red, 18 cars E. Side at 96¼c; 1,800 bu and 40 cars regular and 10 cars in Cdlt at 96⅛c; 9 cars regular at 96c; 10,000 bu do at 95¾c. No. 3 red—1 car in St. L. 3 in D and 6 in C at 89¾c, 6 in St. L. and 8 in Cldt at 90c, 13 E. side at 90½c, 2 do (early) at 90¾c. No. 4—1 car in C at 83½c. Rejected—2 cars in C and 2 in D at 70c.

SAMPLES—Receipts 2,198 sks and 136 cars. Offerings moderate. Good samples of No. 3, 4 and rejected in fair demand, with prices about the same; the poor lots of rejected and no grade very dull and difficult to place without making concessions; very little demand for hard wheat and that only for choice grades. Sales: Special bin—1 car no grade at 60c, 1 do at 70c, 2 rejected at 74c, 1 do at 76c, 1 no grade and 2 rejected East side at 78c, 5 rejected at 80c, 3 do at 81c, 7 do at 82c, 10 do at 83c, 5 do east side and 5 this side at 84c, 1 do east side at 85c, 5 No. 4 winter at 86c, 9 do at 86½c, 4 do at 87c, 7 do at 87½c, 4 do at 87¾c. 3 do at 88c, 5 No. 3 red at 91c, 2 do at 91½c. Corn—Dullness still ruled supreme in the speculative market, and almost total absence of outside orders and but little interest taken by the local trade having a restrictive effect upon pit operations. The feeling was firm early in sympathy with advances elsewhere, but late weakened off with wheat and at close was ¼@⅜c below yesterday. Receipts were small, but so were shipments. Liverpool showed dullness and declines. Bradstreet's visible increased nearly 800,000 bu.

FUTURES—Sept. sold at 52½c and late was offered at 51½c. Oct. sold at 47½c to 47¾c. Year opened at 39c and sold to 39⅛c to 38⅝c, closing at the bottom. May sold at 40¼c to 40c and at close offered at 39⅞c. Early 38⅛c was bid for Jan., but at close not worth over 37¾c.

SPOT GRADES—Firm and higher, with a better inquiry and offerings selling more readily. No. 2 sold regular up to 52½c and E. side at 52½c; No. 3 this side at 51 to 51½c, with latest sales at 51⅛c and for E. side

Corn—Dullness still ruled supreme in the speculative market, and almost total absence of outside orders and but little interest taken by the local trade having a restrictive effect upon pit operations. The feeling was firm early in sympathy with advances elsewhere, but late weakened off with wheat and at close was ⅛@⅛c below yesterday. Receipts were small, but so were shipments. Hay.

Hay—Receipts, 301 tons. No new features were developed to relieve the glutted condition of the market. The only thing now that will in any way improve the outlook would be for shippers to discontinue shipping until the present accumulation has been worked off. Fruits.

Apples—Receipts, 518 bbls. The market is now in good shape, as the inferior and very perishable fall varieties are disappearing and the more desirable and better-keeping varieties are beginning to come in more freely. The market is doing much better, and there was an improved demand. There is quite a scarcity of good shipping fruit. Northern Spy domino, rambo and like varieties range at 90c@$1.25 per bbl; ben davis, kings, bellflower, Jonathan, Roman beauty and like varieties at $1.50@1.75. Sales—22 bbls at 75c, 12 at $1.25, 25 at $1 60.

Peaches—Deliveries of home-grown light. Demand for choice stock good, some very fancy deliveries selling as high as $4 per bu. The range was 50c to $4.00 per bu, according to quality and condition. Consigned were in light offering. Near-by Missouri and Illinois selling at 50c@$1 per bu and 35@75c per ½-bu box.

Grapes—Large receipts of Ohio and light of home-grown. Condition of the Ohio stock was poor, the bulk of the receipts being overheated and necessarily overripe and shrunken, and while presenting a good appearance as originally packed, would not stand a further investigation, as when removed from the original package they would not adhere to the stem. This class of stock went to peddlers at a discount. Sales ranged: Concords at 17@18c ⅌ 9-lb basket and 1½@2c ⅌ lb in large packages, Delaware at 30c ⅌ 9-lb basket, Brighton and Elviras at 17@20c ⅌ 9-lb basket and 2c ⅌ lb in large packages, Virginia seedling at 2½c ⅌ lb.

Onions—Received, 968 bu. Dull, owing to the fact that nearly all the stock coming in is more or less out of order, due to the warm weather, being overheated and soft. Eggs.

Received, 950 cases. Steady, with a slightly improved demand. Strictly fresh sold at 15c per dozen, one lot of 70 cases reported sold at that figure. The arrivals, however, continue to run very poor, showing the effect of the hot weather, and lose heavily. Heated, stale and otherwise inferior dull at a lower figure.

Butter and Cheese.

Butter—Received, 30,997 lbs. The market continues quiet, but steady. Demand moderate and supplies fully ample, but no great surplus of any kind. A report from one of the principal butter producing sections of the country says the reduction in the make of butter is over 50 per cent of what it ordinarily is at this season. The extreme dry weather and heat has almost destroyed the fall feed, so that milk producers are feeding same as in winter. A continuance of the present climatic conditions will reduce amount and quality in that district to a very low ebb.

Poultry and Game.

Live Poultry—The market for chickens continues to rule strong, and although offerings were somewhat larger, the supply was still short of requirements. The demand was best for light and medium weight stock. As Fair week is near at hand we would advise shippers not to save their poultry for that week, as it is a mistaken idea that there will be a big demand for them at that time. There is usually little demand for poultry during Fair week. Turkeys, fair sale for choice dressing stock, but small, thin and poor dull and neglected. Geese are selling slowly, while ducks were steady. Sales ranged:

Commercial Notes.

On Sept. 1 the Vienna stock of wheat was 88,000 bu, and of rye 80,000 bu.

A signal service prediction is out for rain throughout the winter wheat belt to-morrow.

New Orleans cleared 36,985 bu wheat for Havre, 88,000 bu to Calais, 114,000 to Rouen.

Weather still warm and hazy; 87 deg. at 1:20 o'clock. Local forecast: Fair; nearly stationary.

Wheat seeding is progressing in the northern counties of Michigan where the area will be greatly increased, but in the central and southern counties plowing and planting have been suspended on account of drought.

Dornbusch says: "Odessa advices of the 3d inst. state that the grain supply is becoming more important, 500 wagonloads having arrived in the last few days. Moreover, several thousand chetverts of barley and Ghirka wheat are daily being received from the Dnieper and Dneister districts. The tone of the market is quieter."

New York says: Business of a scalping nature on the bull side and no outside orders of any importance; trade very dull; exporters doing nothing except selling options; late Liverpool cables 2d lower and Continental limits reduced 4c. Another statement was that sto:ks were accumulating and money was tight.

The Viceroy telegraphs to the Indian office as follows: "Weather seasonable generally. Agricultural operations generally progressing favorably in most provinces. From the Governor of Madras the following telegram has been received: 'Good rain fell at the beginning of this week in several of the districts which have given most cause for anxiety.'"

Bradstreet's visible of wheat increased 2,939,000 bu East and 183,000 west of the Rockies; corn increased 798,000 bu and oats 515,000. One year ago the increase east of the Rockies was 632,000 bu in wheat, 750,000 bu in corn and 373,000 bu in oats. Since Sept. 1, this year, the visible of wheat east of the Rockies has increased 12,417,000 bu and west 4,614,000, a total of 17,031,000.

Bank of England sold $500,000 gold to-day for shipment to America and also sent $135,000 to France.

An Antwerp house writes, under date of Sept. 4: "The demand for wheat from the interior is enormous, and whatever the trade on your side may think, we want the American surplus. We want every bushel of it. The export demand on your side may fall off temporarily, but not permanently. When European crops commence to move it will only then be visible how bad they are. Our market looks weaker than it really is."

The London Miller of 7th inst., in reference to the English wheat crop, says: "Millers may feel decided that with native wheat this season it will be necessary to mix foreign sorts plentifully. This necessity will also rule in France and Belgium, where the grain saved has not been matured in a hard condition. At the moment prices have ebbed back 2s to 3s per quarter, the edge of the French competitions is a little blunted, and new supplies are nearer than they were. But the opportunity of buying is not to be disregarded, and the concensus of opinion is clear that the year is not one when trifling with markets can be indulged."

The London Economist of the 12th inst. says: "Six weeks ago the general appearance of the wheat crop, according to hundreds of reports, indicated a yield over average, and it was believed that thirty bu an acre might fairly be expected. To-day, while the damage to the wheat crop is less than it was supposed to be, no good judge, we imagine, would put the average for the United Kingdom at more than 28 bu an acre, and some would give a lower estimate. The chief damage to the barley crop is the staining of the greater part of it, so that it will not be acceptable to brewers. Still, a full average yield of generally inferior quality is to be expected. Oats suffered comparatively little. There has been a heavy loss in peas, while beans have not been materially injured. Disease has spread more or less extensively in the magnificent crops of potatoes, but roots have improved. A fair crop of hops is being gathered."

Chicago Market Letter.

Private wire to J. P. Grier.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—December wheat opened at 99⅛c, sold up to $1.00⅛ and closed at 98⅛c. The early strength was on light receipts at St. Louis and other winter wheat points, good export orders in Duluth and dry weather throughout the Southwest. The decline later was on weak and lower Continental cables and telegrams from first-class financial houses advising an active money market and that the Bank of England would advance its rate of interest to-morrow. Tight money is too important a faction in the speculative world to be ignored.

There is nothing new regarding the White failure, as it will take a day or two to develop.

Corn opened strong on general buying. Gossip towards the close said it was only shorts covering. The shipping demand is good and receivers now say the bulk of receipts have been received.

No feature to oats. Very light local trade in them.

Provisions very weak. Packers are ready sellers on all firm spots. We must have better buying to keep prices where they are.

Estimated receipts for to-morrow: Wheat, 310 cars; corn, 460 cars; oats, 235 cars.

Cables noted lower prices for both wheat and corn at Liverpool but the local crowd got short to some extent yesterday and was buying to cover to-day. New York and St. Louis had buying orders in this market. The receipts of wheat and corn were light and shippers reported 1,000,000 bu of corn taken for export within the past five days. Dec. wheat started at 99⅛c, against 99c at the close yesterday, and sold up with some slight reactions to $1, but at 11 o'clock it stood at 99½c. Oct. corn started unchanged at 49⅛c, and with one or two recessions on the way up, sold to 50⅛c, but stood at 50⅛c at 11 o'clock. Provisions were quiet and steady, with fluctuations confined to the narrowest limits.

Manchester Market.

MANCHESTER, Sept. 23.—The Guardian, in its commercial article, says: Where business was effected yesterday it resulted from a disposition to secure more orders than has been possible during the past fortnight. The offers for common and medium shirtings, which were regarded as impracticable last week, are now accepted. Manufacturers of the best India and China staples are fairly supplied with orders. The inquiry for jaconets was fair. Sales were effected at a fractional decline. Some bleaching cloths were in slightly better request. Heavy makes were quiet. Printing cloths were dull. The business does not equal the production. There was an increased business in export yarn at a slight reduction.

EAST ST. LOUIS AND BELLEVILLE.

Litigation Growing Out of the Labor Day Parade—Notes.

A little incident of the Labor Day celebration in East St. Louis has resulted in a lawsuit which involves the officials and members of no less than sixteen distinct and separate labor organizations. The East St. Louis Cornet Band was employed by the Labor Day Committee to lead the parade with thirty-five instruments, and to get the required number the manager of the band, Joseph Bergie, had to secure a dozen or more St. Louis musicians. All the St. Louis men showed union cards, but some of the local musicians could not do so, and for that reason the committee refused to allow any of them to play, claiming that the conditions of the employment of the band demanded a full complement of union members. Manager Bergie has brought suit to recover $200, making the representatives of sixteen local local labor organization parties defendant in the proceedings. The case will be tried before Justice White next Saturday.

Henry Kraus and George Heppell, who were arrested on a warrant for highway robbery, have been released. Anton Weis, who swore out the warrnt, claimed that they robbed him of his watch and $12. They were not subjected to examination, as he withdrew the complaint. Kraus threatens to bring suit against his accuser for damages for defamation of character.

Mrs. Jennie Warnick of 2610 South Third street, St. Louis, was brought here yesterday evening and placed in St. Mary's Hospital. She was suffering with pneumonia. A short time after entering the hospital she died. She was the wife of Albert Warnick. The funeral takes place to-morrow at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Charles Kimzemiller of Denver, Colo., is visiting City Clerk E. C. Schultz.

The City Court reconvenes to-morrow morning, when the chancery docket will be taken up.

William Winkelman had a hearing before Justice Needles yesterday on the charge of permitting gambling devices to be operated at the Fair Grounds. He was acquitted on the ground that his property was under the control of the Fair Association at the time.

The Belleville Oil-works Co. has elected H. G. Weber President, August Lenz Vice-President, John Brosius Secretary, I. H. Wangelin Treasurer.

Ordination services were held at 7 o'clock this morning in St. John's Church, Sixteenth and Chestnut streets. Three young students, Albert Meyer, P. Woods and Christopher Byrne of Byrnesville, were elevated to the priesthood. The service this morning concluded a series of ceremonies which were begun last Monday, when Messrs. Meyer and Woods received the tonsure and the four minor orders of Ostiarius, Lectoris, Xorces and Acolyte. Yesterday they received the sub-deaconships and this morning were made deacons and then priests. The young men will be assigned to country parishes within the archdiocese.

LIVE STOCK.

St. Louis Union Stock Yards.

Cattle—There is a good demand and steady prices are readily paid at the Union yards for decent cattle, such as steers, cows and heifers, but the arrivals to-day were light of these kinds. But common stuff was here in abundance with a weakening tendency to prices. The unusual dry weather conditions in the St. Louis tributary, is making the farmers and stock raisers scarce in all of their common stuff. Dry weather is also slacking off the demand for stockers and feeders, there being no buyers here to-day. Common cows and calves are still down low with slow sale, but the better grades are improving slightly. The prevailing market prices are as follows:

Grades.	Price ⅌ 100 lbs
Fancy steers, 1,400 to 1,600 lbs	$5 00 to $5 97
Choice steers, 1,300 to 1,400	5 00 to 5 50
Good steers, 1,100 to 1,200	4 50 to 5 25
Butcher steers, 950 to 1,050	3 50 to 4 15
Stockers and feeders	2 00 to 2 25
Good to choice feeders	2 25 to 3 00
Choice cows and heifers	2 50 to 3 50
Common to fair cows	1 25 to 1 75

Hogs—The market was active and a shade easier, with fair arrivals and everything sold. Good to best packers brought from $4.80 to $5.10, while a couple of bunches of extra selects brought 5@10c higher, but of course did not serve as the selling criterions of the market. Fair to good packers sold at from $4.25 to $4.75 and common from $3.00 up to $4.15. The close was steady and the day's representative sales were as follows:

Sheep—The market is slow. Demand limited on nearly all kinds except good muttons, and $4 now catches the best of that grade. Lambs are slow and do not get beyond $4, except on best to selected grades. Stock ewes are practically without a market and stockers without a certainty of value basis.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23, 11 a. m.—The stock market was still very active this morning, but the opening showed a continuance of yesterday's weakness, first prices being from ¼ to ⅞ per cent lower than last evening's figures, Louisville & Nashville and Northern Pacific showing the heaviest losses. Prices, however, improved from the opening sales and the early losses were generally made up with the Villards, Burlington and specialties led in the upward movement. Sugar was the special weak point in the market, dropping to 90⅛ from 91⅞ last evening, but it recovered a large portion of this loss with the stock of the regular list. In the late dealings prices again shaded off while the market became comparatively quiet. The most active stocks were Atchison, Erie, St. Paul, the Villards and Burlington. At 11 o'clock the market was only fairly active, but heavy at about the level of the opening price.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—American railroad securities on the stock exchange here opened weak on yesterday's closing prices on the New York stock exchange and on realizing. The market afterward became firm, but the dealings were limited. An undecided feeling prevails and operators are awaiting the receipt of the New York opening prices. Compared with yesterday's closing prices Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe at this hour shows a decline of 2 per cent; Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific debentures 1⅛; Denver & Rio Grande, preferred, 1⅛; Norfolk & Western, preferred, and Ohio & Mississippi Ordinary, 1⅛; Denver & Rio Grande common, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Louisville & Nashville, Missouri, Kansas & Texas, Union Pacific & Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific preferred, each 1; Northern Pacific, preferred, ⅛; Central Pacific & New York, Ontario & Western, ⅛; New York, Lake Erie & Western, preferred, ⅛.

Noon—Money quiet at 6 per cent. The stock market became quiet after 11 o'clock and prices dropped slowly throughout most of the hour without material movement in any stock. The advances in the Villards and Burlington were about wiped out, however, while the rest of the list as a rule were carried small fractions below the level of the opening figures. The same stocks still led in the dealings which were materially smaller than those of the previous hour. No feature of special importance marked the trading and at noon the market was comparatively quiet and heavy at the lowest prices of the morning.

SECOND DISTRICT POLICE COURT.

Frank Christopher Fined for Keeping a Filthy Dairy.

Frank Christopher was fined $50 in the Second District Police Court this morning for keeping a filthy dairy at 3465 St. Vincent avenue. The neighbors complained of the nuisance and Chief Sanitary Inspector Charles W. Francis had the place condemned. The nuisance was not abated and Christopher was summoned to the First District Police Court, but he took a change of venue to the Second District Court. Five people who live in the vicinity testified to the nuisance and Inspector Francis gave evidence to the proceedings of the Board of Health. Upon the evidence the court fined Christopher $50, and he immediately gave bond for an appeal. Five other filthy dairy nuisance cases were continued until Sept. 30.

Dan Nolan was drunk on Tenth and Carr streets last night, and Edward Neusel went through his pockets and took $3 and a memorandum book. Officer Charles Hill caught Neusel and lodged him in the Third District Police Station.

George Willis was drunk on the streets last night also, and Officers Coppinger and McHee caught John King and Tom, alias "Stumpy," Shea in the act of searching him. They got only a few pocket trifles. The officers arrested them and warrants were sworn out to-day against Neusel, King and Shea.

SWINDLED RIGHT AND LEFT.

Two Brothers Mortgage a Piece of Property Four Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 23.—One of the biggest swindling schemes ever carried on in this city comes to light in the failure of the firm of V. E. Schlater & Co., recently doing business at No. 124 Columbus avenue. The firm was composed of Victor and Louis Shlater, brothers. By their changing their names from Shlater to Schlater and Plater they have swindled right and left. Louis has left town and Victor is left to bear the brunt of the affair. He will probably be arrested. They have been borrowing money on promissory notes, forging the names of their mother and a mother-in-law as indorsement because there were mortgages on their property for more than it was worth. They bought the property in December, 1886, and began a market and grocery business. The building was old, but the lot is worth $3,500. When they purchased it they mortgaged it to the New Haven Savings Bank for $2,000. On Oct. 15, 1888, Louis, under the name of L. M. Schlater, gave John Mason a mortgage on it for $150. Again, on Jan. 15, 1889, the brothers, under the names of Victor and Louis Schlater, mortgaged the same property to Lewis Bates for $700 and a day or two later Louis mortgaged it to Robert T. Merwin for $400. Then they raised money on promissory notes, forging the indorsement required. Louis, who has disappeared, forged the name of Mrs. Salome Ketterer, Victor's mother-in-law, while she was in Europe, the payees never thinking it necessary to inquire about the matter. Henry L. Elliott held a note which was not paid at maturity. He brought suit and as there was little or nothing in the Schlater store he had them declared insolvent. The hearing on the appointment of a trustee was postponed until yesterday. A score of creditors appeared. Proof of the forgeries was found. The store and lot had been mortgaged four times under different names. The mortgagees may get something out of the property, but the many holders of notes have no recourse. The brothers were accustomed to represent that they needed the money in settling the estate of Mrs. Ketterer, who was represented as being worth $40,000. There is about $8,000 owed on promissory notes and others will probably turn up. In the schedule filed by the Schlaters they claim assets of $8,000 and liabilities of $6,000. Victor claims that Louis has swindled him as well as the rest.

AN ELOPING COUPLE.

The Romantic Story of S. W. Thornton and Eva Jewell Disproved.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 23.—S. W. Thornton and his pretty sister-in-law, Eva Jewell, the central figures in the romantic story of the ocean rescue off Coney Island and the romantic trip by sailing vessel to this port, have been proven an eloping couple, and they left here last night in disgust. They were identified by W. R. Carter, editor of the Evening Metropolis, and by a Pullman car conductor, as a couple who traveled from New Orleans together, occupying the same berth. They at first tried to brazen out the exposure caused by the identification, but finally wilted and started for New York via Savannah on the 1:15 train yesterday. They will probably reach their destination Friday morning.

STIGMATA.

An Investigation of the Louisville Case to Be Made Next Friday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 23.—There is no decrease in the sensation caused by the publication in a local paper of the alleged case of "stigmata" in this city. A press reporter endeavored to see Mrs. Stuckenborg, upon whose person the mysterious marks are said to appear, yesterday, but the house was closed to strangers. In regard to the proposed investigation Mr. H. Huber, a brother-in-law of Mr. Stuckenborg, said that Father Raffo would report the case to the Bishop possibly in a few days. After Bishop McCloskey had seen the woman in one of the trances, witnessed the manifestations and had given his opinion, they would be willing to talk fully on the subject.

It is said that this investigation will be made on next Friday.

FINED, FINED AND JAILED.

The Triple Dose Given Justice Ganzhorn by Judge White.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 23.—John L. Ganzhorn, the Justice of the Peace who has been committing so many sensational pranks, was convicted in the Criminal Court yesterday morning of being drunk while attempting to dispense justice and was fined $50 and sentenced to thirty days in jail and deposed from office. He first gained notoriety by contracting a common law marriage in a saloon, performed by the bar-keeper. He afterwards auctioned off his whiskers in the same saloon, but never delivered them.

GILMORE REMAINS.

He Has Been Re-Engaged for Two Years More.

NEXT YEAR HE WILL LEAD THE BIGGEST BAND ON EARTH.

The Exposition Management Will Do Their Share Towards Celebrating the Columbian Anniversary at the Proper Time—Order of the Iron Hall Night—The St. Louis Glee Club to Sing.

Gilmore for two years more! Those were the glad tidings that spread like wildfire through the aisles and Music Hall last evening.

As the words passed from lip to lip a smile of gladness seemed to follow in its wake. Everybody was in high glee, and when the great leader stepped upon the stage at the 9 o'clock concert he was rapturously applauded. No one was more delighted than the great leader himself, and well he might be, for under the terms of the contract he will be called upon to lead the biggest band on earth. The management of the Exposition, always alert, are arranging to celebrate the "Anniversary of the Discovery of America" at the proper time, October, 1892. Gilmore and his band will prove one of the great features of the occasion. The contract made by him with the management calls for the increase of his already monster band to 100 pieces. This gigantic musical combination will play at the Exposition during the seasons of 1892 and 1893. Too much can not be said in praise of the management, who, by this successful stroke, will bring to St. Louis the honor of properly celebrating the anniversary of the discovery of America, and give to the Exposition a world wide reputation as well as a display fully in keeping with the event to be commemorated.

* * *

Col. Gilmore is all enthusiasm over the project of the management. "This will be the biggest thing yet in the musical line," he said. "We will have the largest band in the world. The only band that can at all compare with it is the Garde Republique in Paris, which contains eighty musicians." Col. Gilmore will set to work at once preparing for the great event. He will send an agent to Europe who will spend over half a year procuring the best musicians and instruments. The stupendous size of the band will permit the introduction of several heretofore unheard of features. There will be a sextette of solo cornetists and a double quartette of French horns, saxophones and trombones. In addition to this every known mechanical device for producing various effects, such as cannon, running horses, etc., will be produced and the band will thus be enabled to produce the most startling effects.

* * *

The building was crowded all through the day yesterday, the majority of those in attendance being strangers. Although the tone of the music was a little high the audience seemed very appreciative and encored nearly everything. To-night the Order of the Iron Hall will holy a reception in the building. An unusually attractive programme has been prepared for the occasion. During the first concert Miss Bertha Gerhart will sing, "Had I the Choosing," the words of which are by Miss Minnie Gilmore and the music by Mr. Alfred Robyn. During the second concert Miss Nellie Braggins will sing an aria, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Charles Kunkel. Col. Gilmore has prepared a programme for this evening which savors enough of the classical to satisfy the most fastidious. It is always a treat to hear the band render the Tannhauser overture. The solo by Matus Ur and the concert "Polonaise" by M. I. Epstein, the well-known pianist of this city, will be sure to arouse a great deal of interest.

* * *

The programme for the two evening concerts is as follows:

FIRST CONCERT, 7 TO 8.

2. Romanza—"Love s Sweet Message" ..... Louis Ritter
3. Grand Concert Polonaise ..... M. I. Epstein

To-morrow night the St. Louis Glee Club and their friends will take possession of Music Hall. The club has only been in existence one year, but they have already made a very fine reputation for finished work. The club contains thirty-five of the best male voices in the city and is under the direction of Prof. H. H. Darby. During the evening they will render two rollicking old English glees, "Of Doughty Deeds" and "A Wet Sheet and a Flowing Sea." Col. Gilmore will have an appropriate programme.

Friday night the Legion of Honor will hold a grand reunion in the Exposition. The officers in charge intend making this a memorable event in the history of the order. A splendid musical programme will be presented, a welcome feature of which will be the re-appearance of Mr. Joseph Saier, the popular baritone, who figured so prominently in musical circles a few years ago. Mrs. Thomas B. Moss will also be one of the singers. Miss Jennie Thisble, a very prominent soprano from Columbus, Mo., who has devoted several years to the study of the vocal art under the ablest masters in the East, will make her appearance next Monday night. The occasion will be German night, and Col. Gilmore promises for that event a programme that will satisfy the most severe classicist.

The Knights of Father Mathew, who were scheduled to appear on Saturday evening, have abandoned their intention of holding a reunion at the Exposition this evening. The evening has been given instead to the Knights of Pythias. The order is well represented in St. Louis, and as their regalia is very handsome they will make a very striking appearance. Red Cross Division, No. 4, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will give an exhibition drill under the command of Capt. John Schick. This division has the reputation of being the best drilled company in America in the K. of P. tactics. Their appearance always draws out a large crowd to witness their fancy evolutions.

ENJOYS LIFE NOW.

After a Life of Suffering, Mrs. Wm. Pratt of 3915 North Ninth Street Is Restored to Perfect Health by the Chinese Herb Remedy Co.

At the present time, when there is so much illness, it is a relief to hear of the experience of those who have been cured, and the means they adopted to seek relief. In the first place, people should be careful of patent medicines. The majority of them are harmless, but they are costly, and the time spent in vainly waiting a cure is sufficient to enable a really first-class physician to produce the desired results. There are also many physicians who possess no ability whatever. Consequently, call on some one who has been cured of an ailment similar to yours, and adopt the same method they did.

Mrs. William Pratt, a well-known and popular lady, whose cut is shown herewith, voluntarily makes the following statement concerning her life of suffering and the method of treatment that cured her, after all others had failed, for the benefit of suffering humanity:

I have enjoyed life since using the Chinese Herb Remedies, having suffered from catarrh, female weakness and impure blood as long as I can remember. I have been to no less than eight physicians within the past year, each one giving my malady a different name and assuring me of a cure, but a record of eight failures was the result. Rather a hopeless outlook. I was badly debilitated, and emaciated, and was constantly very languid and without any ambition. I had pains in my back; my night's rest did not do me any good. In fact, I suffered from numberless pains and aches, each one seeming to me to be a disease in itself. Doubtless nine ladies out of ten can imagine my feelings better than I can describe them. I had a constant headache, discharge from the nose and kept hawking and spitting all the time. Matter would drop from behind the palate into my throat. Hard lumps would form in the back of my nostrils, and I would have to snuff backward to dislodge them. These symptoms have all passed away now, and I feel perfectly well, and cannot say too much in favor of the Chinese Herb Remedy Co.'s treatment. They have given me a new lease of life. I have gained much in flesh and strength, and feel that life is worth living. MRS. WM. PRATT.

FOR THEIR LIVES.

Trial of Ranchman Allee Who Killed Editor Bowen in Texas.

BURGLAR FITZSIMMONS' WIFE ANSWERS FOR DETECTIVE GILKINSON'S DEATH.

Story of the Tragedy on the International Railway Train Told by Witnesses at San Antonio—Officer Murphy Recounts the Struggle in Which His Friend Was Murdered—Two Notable Trials.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 24.—Alfred W. Allee came into court to-day looking pale from his long confinement, but otherwise the same quiet, determined man, though on trial for his life, that he was on the day of the tragedy on the International Railway, when Editor William C. Bowen met his death by his hand. The present proceedings, based on a writ of habeas corpus, are held before Judge W. W. King of the Forty-fifth District Court.

At the preliminary investigation in this city, held in June last, the story of the shooting and the incidents which led up to it were told by witnesses. Bowen was a writer and printer, who had passed the best part of his life in Southwestern Texas. He had a wife and three children and a son nearly grown. Five years ago he began the publication of the Ledger, at Cotulla, the seat of La Salle County, within fifteen miles of the place where he met his death. For some time his paper was noted as a reckless exploiter of the lawlessness of that section. He was active in inducing the Grand-jury of LaSalle County to reindict Allee for the murder of a negro porter, killed on the train two years ago. Allee met Bowen in a barber shop of Cotulla, cursed him and warned him to keep his name out of print. Bowen threw up his hands and said he was not armed and the row ended. In the next week's issue of the Ledger, on the editorial page, appeared a column article in which he said Allee had been run out of Goliad County for the county's good; that he was a professional cattle thief and desperado; that he had bought land in La Salle County, and that since the fact had become generally known four reputable citizens had come to the Ledger office and offered to dispose of their property at 50 cents on the dollar.

Friends of the two men knew that a killing was bound to follow. Bowen was in San Antonio two days before his death, and, with the customary fatuity of the country editor, went to a pawn shop and purchased a second-hand pistol of some unknown brand, for which he paid $2.50 and 50 cents for repairs. When remonstrated with he said the weapon was good enough for him.

THE TRAGEDY ON THE TRAIN.

He left San Antonio June 4 over the International & Great Northern Railway.

At Dilley the train was boarded by Allee. It was stated by several witnesses that when Bowen saw his foeman he rested his two hands on the car seat in front of him and opened fire. The bullet flew wide of the mark. Allee, who is known as the quickest man in this section of Texas, sprang at him, grasped his pistol and shot him twice through the brain and once through the stomach. Bowen's brother, who is a young lawyer, was sitting by him. This brother threw his hand behind him, and his right arm was shattered by a bullet from the pistol of a man named Lyons, a cow-puncher in Allee's employ, who had boarded the train with him. Lawyer Bowen's arm has since been amputated.

When the dead editor's body sank to the floor of the car Allee took a seat near by and said to those about him that the affair had been forced upon him. He returned to Pearsall and gave himself up to the authorities.

The scene in the car while the duel was in progress was frightful. Women screamed, crawled under the seats and fainted. One drummer sprang out of a window and was subsequently picked up. Through the back of the seat, just behind the editor, there were five bullet holes. A woman with a child in her arms had been seated there five minutes before the shooting began.

ALLEE'S RECORD.

The prisoner, Alfred W. Allee, is a ranchman and was at the time of the shooting a Deputy United States Marshal. He is a man of very quick manner, speaks in a low voice, is strictly temperate and very good natured. He has a wife and family, and considerable money. He has killed four men in the past six years, as follows: On the main square in Pearsall he killed Frank Rhodes, a young stockman; latter on the celebrated "Capt. Dick," whose true name was Brack Cornett, went down under his pistol. Capt. Dick was leader of the most notorious gang of daring train-robbing gang in the history of Texas, and at the time of his death every officer in the State was looking for him. Later still Allee became involved in an altercation with a negro porter on the International & Great Northern train, and the porter paid the penalty. The case is still pending.

Bowen was a member of the Texas Press Association and was well acquainted with every newspaper man of prominence in the State. He was singularly regardless of his life, and hobnobbed with the six-shooter men of the Rio Grande as though a past master of the craft. About a year ago he attempted to commit suicide by poison on account of the alleged unfaithfulness of his wife. Since then he had been more reckless than ever.

The defense is starting out to make a strong case of justifiable homicide. A witness named William Stanly took the stand yesterday afternoon and testified that he saw the shooting. Allee entered the car and walked down the aisle, shaking hands with one or two friends. As he neared Bowen the latter raised from his seat in a stooping position, pistol in hand, and fired point blank at Allee. This was the first shot of the affray. Allee then drew his weapon and the killing of the editor followed.

Two traveling men contradicted this statement by swearing that Bowen did not fire a shot or attempt to do so.

DETECTIVE GILKINSON'S SLAYERS.

THE DEATH STRUGGLE WITH BURGLAR FITZSIMMONS AT BULL RUN.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—Dramatic scenes are witnessed daily in Judge Ewing's court in the trial of Mrs. Lucy R. Fitzsimmons, wife of the notorious Canadian burglar, Fred Fitzsimmons, for the murder of Detective Gilkerson at the robber's home at Bull Run just six months ago.

Fitzsimmons was indicted with his wife for the crime, but on the 16th of the present month he crowned his career as one of the most daring jail breakers known to the American police, by escaping from the Allegheney County prison. So the trial proceeds with the most important figure missing.

Fitzsimmons is known to be at the head of one of the most dangerous bands of burglars and crooks on the continent, and in the attempt to take him by Officers Murphy and Gilkinson the latter lost his life.

In his statement to the jury Detective Murphy gave a thrilling account of the struggle. He said:

I rushed into the room and at the same time Gilkinson rushed in in a stooping position, when Fitzsimmons placed both revolvers to his forehead and fired both at the same time, and at the same instant a third shot was fired. I saw Gilkinson reel and fall on the floor near the fireplace. I then pulled my revolver and shots were exchanged. I then got close enough and grabbed Fitzsimmons, grasping him by the hand which held the pistol. We fought about for a while and I threw him, and while we were on the floor he fired three shots. One struck me in the chin and one in the left side. I had hold of
